Farmington residents concerned about hunger stepped up their efforts to feed the hungry with CROP-Walk 2000.

The walk took place Sunday afternoon starting at First Methodist Church in downtown Farmington. The 473 walkers had their choice of two routes: a two mile stroll for moms pushing baby carriages or a more ambitious six mile trek.

The preliminary tally indicates that $34,000 was raised, according to coordinator Donna Young.

CROPWalk, which stands for Christian Rural Overseas Programs, is the fund raising arm of Church World Services, an international, interdenominational effort to end hunger locally and worldwide. The walkers in Farmington represented various religious denominations.

Of the money raised, 25 percent of every dollar goes to community food programs like Meals on Wheels. The other 75 percent goes toward programs that help countries struggling with widespread hunger.

Friendship garden is memorial tribute

Botsford Health Care Continuum is inviting friends and co-workers of the late Linda Mlynarek to remember her in a special way by contributing to a Friendship Garden that is expected to become the focal point of the Linda Mlynarek Community Garden in Botsford Commons.

Mrs. Mlynarek was administrator of Botsford's Continuing Health Center and president of Botsford Continuing Care Corp. at the time of her death in November, 1998.

The friendship garden will be an area of beauty and reflection for those who visit, live or work at Botsford Commons. The garden design and planting will be directed by two Botsford volunteers who are also master gardeners.

Gardeners are being asked to share sun loving plants such as lilies, noninvasive ornamental grasses, astilbe, shasta daisies, lavender and chrysanthemums.

Individuals who are not gardeners or who do not have perennials to share but do wish to participate in the garden project can make cash donations which will be used for additional plant purchases.

Donations must be received in May for inclusion in the garden. For more information, call Botsford's development department at 442-5045.
