4th-place North makes strong showing at state

demearable homeomment

North Farmington capped abother successful season in beys tennis with a fourth-place finish in the state tournament.
Defending champion Okemos
sup the Division 2 title again by a comfortable margin Dioomfield Hills Lahser.
The Chieftains had three flight winners and 29 points Friday and Saturday at Michigan State University, Lahser finished with 19, Grand Rapids Forest Hills
Central 17 and North 18.
The Raiders, who were scond in the state leaty one, reached the quarterfinals in all but one flight and were semifinalists, in four.

"We thought we could defi-nitely about for the top five." North coach Mark Shenton said. We knew it would be pretty tough to get up to first. Second, was a possibility, but it just did-n't end up playing out that way. "Myself and the players want-cd to finish as high as we possi-bly could. I think everyone came ready to play, and we can't be disappointed with a fourth-place finish."
Junior Jay Berman had to finish."

Junior Jay Berman had to rally to win his first match against Dearborn's Mike Parnello, and the 7-6, 6-4 victory gave him the momentum to reach the semifinals at No. 2 singles.

As expected, Birmingham Brother Rice (Division 1) and Detroit Country Day (Division 3) defended their state champi-defended their state championships in boys tennis.

Rice's victory capped a sensational season in which the Warriors went undefeated in dual meets (13-0), won Catholic League and regional titles and rolled to their third consecutive state crown. The Warriors were that state's top-ranked team regardless of class all season.
Country Day mustered its fifth consecutive state crown, including its second Division 3 title in a row. The Yellow Jackets won the Division 4 crown in 1998, were Class B co-champlens with Bloomfield Hills Andover in 1997 and won the 1996 Class B title outright.

ing its second Division 3 title in a row. The Yellow Jackets won the Division 4 crown in 1998, were Class Be oc-champions with Bloomfield Hills Andover in 1997 and won the 1996 Class B title outright.

Brother Rice won two of the four singles flights and was a runner-up in three other flights to score 27 points in the Division I tournament held at the Midland Community Tennis Center.

Catholic Central was second with 21 points and Grosse Points Catholic Central was second with 22 points and Grosse Points Conth third with 17.

Midland did nothing to change that.

The Warriors won two finals and had finalists in five of seven lights to win the state tile, easily outdistancing Catholic Central, 27-21.

"We had some close match and the bail didn's always go our way," said CC coach Philip Eagleson. "We had a bunch of the base of th

To come in as freshman and fight through as freshman and fight through at the second of the fight, but couldn't break through to the finals — mostly because of Brother Rice.

In No. 1 singles, CC's Mike Findling lost to Rice's David Lynn, 6-2, 7-6 (8), while Rice's David Atallah at No. 3, 6-0, 7-6 (1) and the Warrior's Matt Ora and Charlie Duerr stopped lam Meilenry and Lodewijk Von Holabeeck, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, in No. 3 doubles! Lynn and Christian went on to win their flight.

At No. 2 singles, J.D. Shade lost to eventual winner Matt Garner of East Kontwood, 6-2, 6-3, while the No. 1 doubles champion, Richard Marsh and Brian Gorski of Grosse Pointe South, beat CC's 40ff Flesars and Roßparis in the semis — 6-3, 6-3.

"It's hard to describe," said Eagleson. "The whole team had a wonderful performance. All of them played well. Everyone had a good weekend."
