Friends and enemies
Did you ever consider that a person may be both a friend and an enemy to different people? Usually, whenever someone does something good for us, we consider them our friend, and when we believe that someone has done us wrong, we may consider them our enemy. I am sure that we all like to look upon ourselves as a friend to everyone. Still, as human nature goes, we can never be sure of how others may perceive our words or actions. There is only one friend that will never leave us or forsake us, and that is our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. He is the truest of friends and we can rely on Him to always have our best interests at heart. He will never betray us or mislead us, and in our time of need, He is always there waiting for us to call upon Him. He never vengeful, spiteful, or vindictive, and even though we may not always understand His ways, He would never do anything to us that is not in our best interest. As we go through life, friends may come and go, but our friend and brother, Jesus, will be with us through eternity.
... And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.
N.Y.V. Matthew 28:20
