Devine said there were about 60-to-70 student volunteers involved with the production, which began at 3 p.m. Friday at the North Farmington High School-based TV-10 studio. And "hundreds" of other atudents participated in the many acts, virtually all of them of the musical variety, she added. It's always a great enjoyment on the willing kids, parents and staff." Device said. It's amazing what we can do when we all work together.

POLICE CALLS

The following reports were filed with the Farmington Hills Police Department this week:

filed with the Farmington Hills
Police Department this week:
CRIMINAL SEXUAL CONDUCT
A 22-year-old Huntington Woods woman told Farmington Hills police she believes her daughters, age 4 and 2, were sexually abused by one of three men who attended two family gatherings in Farmington Hills
and one at her home in Huntington Woods.
The family gatherings took place last October, last Thanksgiving and last February. The mother was oblivious until the 4-year-old complained recently of vaginal pain.
The three suspects are the only people who were at all three family gatherings, the police report said.

FIRE DAMAGE

FIRE DAMAGE

Police prepared mental commitment papers for a 45-year-old Farmington Hills woman following her involvement in a house fire March 17.

Police arrived on the scene to find the woman standing in the driveway, covered with soot. She, and she carried a gas can into her bedroom then accidentally started a fire with a cigaratte. She tried to put it out with blankets, then called 911. The woman was taken to Botsford Hospital. A nicee and family friend said the woman has been depressed since the death of her husband.

Firefighters saved the house, but Assistant Chief Pete Baldwin estimated the damage at $100,000.

INDECENT EXPOSURE

A waitress at Bamboozles on Eight Mile told police March 17 that a customer exposed himself to her on Feb. 25.
She said the man, about 55 years of age, sat near her while she arranged silverware in a booth. He left quickly after she saw 'him playing with himself,' according to the police report.
The waitress didn't report the incident until the man returned March 17 and sat at the bar. He left in a four-door Chery Malibu immediately after making eye contact with her.
