Lord, Help Me to Believe

Somewhere between childhood and adulthood, our faith can sometimes deteriorate; the more we understand about life, the more doubtful we may become. For example, when faced with a serious problem, children seem to have the utmost faith that things will turn out for the best, because they know that their parents love them and will always do what is best for them. Children take things at face value, and although they may not always be happy with a parent's decision, they put their trust in their parents on important matters. A parent's love is the ultimate example of God's love, and as children grow into maturity, the trust and love they have for their parents will be reflected in their love and trust in our Heavenly Father. Our Lord told his disciples that unless they changed and became like little children, they would not enter the Kingdom of Heaven. The greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven is the one who humbles himself and becomes like a child. Lord, help me to believe and trust in you as a little child.

Jesus said, "Let the children come to me and do not stop them, because the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to such as these."
