

Dunckel School gets new sculpture

North Farmington Garden Club members have been sprucing up the landscape at O.E. Dunckel Middle School for over two decades now. Their latest effort was the unveiling of a sculpture they commissioned for the school, on 12 Mile between Orchard Lake and Farmington roads.

To raise funds, the club has hosted a juried arts and crafts show in the school every year since 1978. On Nov. 3, the club will host its 23rd annual sale.

Over the years the club has earned enough money to redesign, renovate and expand the original flower beds. Club members continue to plant shrubs, trees, roses, annuals as well as bulbs and other perennials.

Each year the club has received a plaque from the Farmington Hills Beautification Commission and accolades from teachers and school staff.

Three years ago the school was remodeled. The front brick wall was torn down and replaced with a wide expanse of windows. In tearing down the wall, the flagpole garden was ruined. Plans were made to design a new garden for this area.

As a "thank you" to the school for allowing the club to host its annual crafts show there, it was decided that a sculpture would be placed in the garden.

Bernadette Zachara-Marcos, a graduate of the Center for Creative Studies, was commissioned to design and construct the piece. She lives in Farmington Hills and her daughter, Andrea, attends Dunckel. Andrea was her mother's model for the sculpture, which features a student seated on a large boulder reading a book.

A ceremony to unveil the sculpture was held on Oct. 22 at the school. The students, principal, school board members and mayor attended.

The committee to design and plant the new area was chaired by Lottie Moore. Team members were Candy Kosowski, Lois Kelly, Nicole Myre and Ruth Retko. The current president is Nancy Pearn.

The North Farmington Garden Club was founded by a group of 25 women from the area in 1977 and became a member of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan in 1978.
