"I came back in 1993 and we've been in the state play-offs every year," he said, adding that Harrisen just won its fifth state title in a row. Brown is a nominee for the Michigan High School Football Coaches Hall of Fame.

Brown has also written extensively about the Marines for the 50th Commemoration of the Korean War initiative currently underway. His books are available through Amazon.com, Barnes & Noble or Borders bookstores.

Two Broe Choir concerts on tap

The Broe Tabernacle Choir has two more performances scheduled in 2001.
The choir, composed of brainingured clients of Broe Rehabilitation Services in Farmington Hills, will perform on Sunday, Dec. 9, at Church of the Holy City in Royal Oak.
On Wedneaday, Dec. 19, the group will sing at the Detroit Rescue Mission. It's their third annual Christmas concert and presentation of gifts from a Hats for the Homeless* campaign.

That's for the Homeless Campaign.

The choir has three CDs. They've appeared on Disability Today on PBS-TV and on local cable access with the Mercy High School Singers.

For more information, call Len McCulloch, choir director, at (248) 474-BROE.
