Act Happy

If you want to have a good day—and doesn't—it helps to start with a positive affirmation, such as "Today is going to be a great day" or "It's great to be alive. Thank you, Lord, for this day!" Whether you actually feel this way or not, saying it will help put you in a positive frame of mind. The act of smiling seems to activate some sort of "happy switch" in our brains, just as frowning and moping around seem to turn off that switch. Jumping out of bed in the morning with a big smile on your face may not always be easy, but it will help you feel happy and energetic, whereas moping around and grumbling about how lousy you feel will understandably make you feel more depressed and lousy. We must act first, and then the appropriate feelings will come; not the other way around. If you want to be energetic, then start moving and acting energetically. If you sit around waiting for that feeling to come, you will probably be disappointed. So, start acting like you are cheerful and peppy, and you'll soon discover that you are.

To thee, O Lord, I lift up my soul.
R.S.V. Psalm 25:1
