The Raiders (8-7) can win a share of the VLAA Lakes Division title with Plymouth alem if they beat Walled Lake Central on Sation it they beat wants have Control Friday. Both teams were throwing up three-point shots Friday, especially North, which made seven of 27 beyond the arc.

Marcus McComb had three triples while coring a game-high 15 points for the Raiders. Scan Mackler tossed in 14, Mike Leach 11 and Jason Neal eight with each flaver making a three.

"(The Falcons) did a really nice job of packing in the zone," Negoshian soid. "To their credit, they played the type of game they needed to stay in it.

"We didn't have any plan for (shooting threes). They sunk the zone in and the kids did a nice job of recognizing what they were giving them."

Farmington was 3-of-19 from three-point idstance with Jeff McCullough accounting for all three wilds seering 13 points.
Ryan Kosinski added six points for the Falcons, who are 0-8 in the WLAA and 1-13 overall, as did Earle Higgins Jr. for the Raiders.
'The Raiders's knocked down the three, but I'm more concerned with what we're do doing right and doing wrong. Farmington coach Steve Korpusik said.
'It seems we're struggling to advance beyond the basic concepts. We have moments when overything is fine, and then it all disappears.

The Falcons were beaten under the boards where the Raiders wen the jumping game, grabbed second shots and stole rebounds.

"That's just a lack of will and aggression on the boards. Korpush said. "We spend a lot of time at each practice working on a variety of drills to simulate rebounding. It's been a point of frustration all year."

The disparity in rebounding totals contributed to North having a lot more chances and shooting 22-of-65 for the game while Furmington was 11-of-22 from the floor.

"We talked about taking open shots and not rushing them," Negoshins said. "I think we had only a handful of shots we would consider not good. All in all, we had good shots and sometimes they go in."

The Raiders had a 22-10 advantage in shots antempted in the first quarter while racing to early leads to $9-0 and 13-3.

McComb had 12 first-half points, Macklernine and Leach seven as North expanded a 16-7 quarter lead to 40-17 at halftime.

In what Catholic Central awim coach Jeff Baker is hailing as one of the most impressive sensors he's experienced in years, the Shamrocks have one dual meet remaining before the MISCA and CHSL lengue events and then the state finals begin. "We haven't been undefeated at this point in the sensor in years," said Baker after a hearthreaking and rare tie against undefeated rival Brother Rice.

the against underented rival rooter Rice.

"I'm really pleased with the out-come," said Baker, "and with how they swam. Our kids stepped up and won all three relays after having com-peted the night before against Lahser and Saturday at Edsel Ford.

The kids were very excited about this meet so that helped with their momentum."

In addition to the winning season the Shamrocks are having, Baker said they have set 10 pool records at vari-cus venues since December and have state qualifiers in every event except

"Usually by the end of the season we pick up all the events, but it's rare to have done it so early on," added Baker. "It's a tribute to how our kids are competing and one of the benefits of training hard."

Some of the Shamrock standouts include Kevin Ryan and Brett Steele who were both on the winning team that set pool records Wednesday night in the 200 medley and 200 freestyle relays against Brother Rice; Brett Mcconis who has had an exemple result of the season for his lifetime best in the 400 freestyle relay this past week; and Andrew Carlin who drapped one second off his lifetime best in the 200 freestyle relay.

The team has remained in top form because of Baker's intense practice schedule throughout the dual-meet season. The Shamrock coach said they will be enterting the "taper phase" of the program to "rest, rejuvenate and repair's at they can swim their fastest during the champlonships.
