Ford shows manners not only for manors

Manners are not only for manors.

That's the message in best-selling author Charlotte Ford's newest book on manners, 21st Century Etiquette: Charlotte Ford's Quide 16 Manners for the Modern Age, (Lyons Press, $24.95. Nov. 2001), a fresh, and witty guide to maintaining elvility in today's high-tech world. With easy-to-follow tips and common-sense advice, Ford shows readers that courtesy is never out of date and is always in style.

Ford, a New York City resident, will also speak on this topic when she is the featured guest of The Women's Division for Project HOPE (Health Opportunities for People Everywhere), at a luncheon on Friday, April 19, at the Fairlane Club in Dearborn.

In her book, Ford, daughter of Henry Ford II and an accomplished businesswoman in her own right, not only addresses current and social situations, but expands her comments to everyday situations in the gym, the use of cell phones, tipping, the single life, and many more areas where modern technology and alternative lifestyles have made former "rules" obsolete.

Each chapter contains "Do's and Don'ts" of tooics.

and many more treas where mode former 'rules' obsolete.

Each chapter contains "Do's and Don'ts" of topics, and end with a quiz. In the Taming Technology chapter, her cell phone "don'ts" include: "Don't talk to someone else (the waiter, someone on the street, etc.) while on the phone." "Do's" include: "Do keep conversations short and to the point if you are forced to take a call in the company of others."

Chapters also contain a "Past Contury/Present Century's summary of various etiquette questions.

The Friday program begins with a reception at 10:30 a.m. with Project HOPE member and planist Alice Berberian Haidestian of Bloomfield Hills playing classic popular songs. At 11:45 a.m. Ford will make a brief presentation before the noon luncheon. From 1 to 2 p.m. she will answer questions from the audience and autograph copies of her book, which will be available for purchase.

The Spring Lunchcon, a fund. raising event to benefit Project HOPE, has received significant sponsorship from Marsh and Comerica. Co-chairwoman are Gwen Bowlby of Detroit and Julie Stackpoole of
