

Risotrante Cafe Cortina participates in hunger event

Risotrante Cafe Cortina of Farmington Hills will be among the restaurants participating in Share Our Strength's Taste of the Nation, held Sunday, April 28 at the Somerset Collection South.

The strolling dinner event is one of 100 held throughout the nation each spring. One hundred percent of the $100 ticket sales go directly to fight hunger. Chef Adrian Tonon submitted his recipe for Gnocchetti Con

Un Sughetto Di Pomodoro Fresco E Basilico (serves 4):

5 Potatoes (La Ratto Do Paris) 4-6 lbs.

1/2 cup flour
salt to taste & water

Sugo:

3 Roma tomatoes
2 cups fresh tomato sauce
3 large basil leaves
1/2 cup cream
1 tap. butter
2 tbsp. parmigiano

Peel, boil and drain potatoes, then pass them through a food mill. Mix with flour until dough ball consistency and divide dough into four equal parts. Roll each out to desired thickness and consistency. Cut into small cubes, on a slant, and roll on a fork to cause indentations that will hold the sauce. Boil in salted water until they rise up to the top of the pan. Drain immediately and mix with sugo.

A faulty metal processing machine was found to be the cause of a noxious odor at Specialty Steel Treating by Eight Mile, just west of Orchard Lake Sunday evening.

No one was seriously injured, but two employees sought their own treatment at Botsford Hospital after complaining of upper respiratory problems, said Don St. Clair, battalion chief of the Farmington Hills Fire Department.

The department was called by employees who were suffering from burning eyes around 7:30 p.m. The Western Wayne Hazardous Incident Response Team was called to investigate the odor.

They found one of the metal processing machines that uses a type of ammonia in the heat treatment process for metal was leaking.

The machine was shut down and the department left around 1:30 a.m.
