Marvelous Mother

Marvelous is what she looks like at her finest.
Odd is how she acts sometimes.
Teaching her children new things
Feeding her children when they are sick.
Enduring her noisy house.
Hamperung through the house when she is angry.

Michael Szuma

That's My Mom

Take days of helping us to school.
Add a cup of night time blessings.
Pour in walking exercise, plenty of plans, and yummy meals.
Bake with care and love.
Don't forget all the things she helps us with, and the sacrifice she makes and Frost with kisses and hugs...
And that's my mom.

My, she's my mother. She helps me in every way she can.
Offering to take me to destinations.
Always there for me.

Telling her how much I love her.
Helping me with that tough problem in math.
Everywhere I need her she's there.
Recognizing my fears making them seem okay. Recognizing my joys, striving to keep them alive.
This all makes my mother.

The One

You were there when I was sick
When I was blue,
And you taught me all your tricks.
You're the one in my dreams,
The one that catches me when I fall,
The one that lifted me up when I couldn't reach.
The one that taught me,
The one who I could teach.
The one who was there when I was hurt,
You always cared,
I could and can tell you everything.
The one that bought me presents.
When all I needed was a kiss.
I love you with all my heart,
That's why I'm going to say,
For the 12 years of my life,
I want to honor you in May,
On Mother's Day,
And all through the year with a gift from my heart.
Not shedding a tear.
I will work harder when you're around
and love you forever,
That I will always remember!
So I want to reward you with love and with care.
Because of all the things that you shared,
You showed me the way when I got lost,
You were the one,
Who taught me to walk
To talk,
To share,
To love.

You brought me to church and showed me what's right,
You were the one at the end of the tunnel with the light!
You brought me to the doctor when I was sick,
You stayed by my side when I was scared,
You were always there to brush my hair,
You gave me the chance to be who I wanted to be!
You brought me into this world with your wonderful heart!
So thank you Lord,
You gave me the best gift a child could have,
A mother who cares.
And one that's not bad.
I love you mom!

Somewhere Over the Rainbow

We don't always get along and share tears and bitter fights,
But at the end of the day you're always there to tuck me in at night.
When you are not there I hear your soft whisper,
sweeping along the gentle breeze,
Telling me to do the right thing.
But sometimes I do as I please.
Then I realize you've lived my life,
and know the teenage girl both inside and out.
So I will listen with you as my conscience to guide me when I am in doubt,
I see myself in you each day,
each moment that I grow.
From the curls to the freckles
I am becoming you, this I will always know.
And I don't think I will mind being strong,
just like you always are.
For you have done so many things
and have come so very far.
They say there is a rainbow at the end of the storm and the sun comes to brighten the way.
You are the sun that warms my heart,
and melts all my troubles away.
In the end I know that growing up is something I have to do but when the world is harsh and deceiving
I know I can turn to you.
You carry the weight of the world on your shoulders,
yet smile for all to see.
I understand now why you have sacrificed,
because you have given the world to me,
We may not have our special connection,
But we'll find it somewhere over the rainbow.
The rainbow connection, the lovers, the dreamers, and me!

Never Enough

Sometimes I know the words to say,
Give thanks for all you've done
But they fly up and away
As quickly as they come
How could I possibly thank you enough?
The one who makes me whole,
The one to whom I owe my life,
The forming of my soul
The one who tucked me in at night,
The one who stopped my crying,
The one who was the expert.
At picking up when I was lying.
The one who saw me off to school,
And spent sad days alone,
Yet magically produced a smile,
As soon as I got home.
The one who makes such sacrifice,
To always put me first,
Who lets me taste my broken wings,
In spite of how it hurts.
Who paints the world a rainbow,
When it's filled with broken dreams,
Who explains it all so clearly,
When nothing's what it seems.
The words are mingled in my mouth,
I find this very tough,
Anything I want to say,
Just doesn't seem enough.
What was there to thank you,
For the heart, your sweat, your tears,
For ten thousand little things you've done,
For oh-so-many years
For changing with me as I changed,
Accepting all my flaws,
Not loving cause you had to,
But loving "just because."
For never giving up on me,
When your wife have reached their end,
For always being proud of me,
For being my best friend.
And as I come to realize,
The only way to say,
The only thank you that's enough,
Is clear in just this way.
Reflections gazing into glassy eyes,
See what I've become,
Do you see the puzzled shapes of you to me?

The job that you have done.
All your hopes and all your dreams,
The strength that no one sees,
A transfer-over many years,
Your best was passed to me.
Thank you for the gift of love you give,
For everything you do,
But thank you, mommy, most of all,
For making my sweet dreams come true.
Thank you for always being there for me
and being my best friend,
thank you for being my mother.
Love always and forever.

Ode To Mom

You're special to us every single day,
You care for us in a gentle way.
Your hugs are always filled with love.
Your kindness comes from up above.
You kiss and heal our scrapes and cuts.
You even clean up after little mutts.
What I'm trying to say is really quite clear.
I love you Mom, you'll always be dear.

Katrina Arevalo,
Farmington Hills

Thanks

Thanks for being my mom
For being there when I need a shoulder to cry on.
When I need someone to talk to Someone to share my clothes with
A buddy to shop with.
You're like a friend who's always there
You help me with my make up and
You help me with my stubborn hair
You're more than just a mom to me
you're a sister and a friend.
Well just thanks for being you
Thanks just doesn't seem enough for all the things you do!

For Mother

Many is for the things you put up with
Offering is for offering me rides
Teaching is for teaching me how to do things
How is for how much you do for me
Every is for knowing everything
Running is for you running to help me

Owen Szarenski

She's Loving

She's Understanding; always there to talk to.
She's Dedicated; juggling four different schedules and never missing one event.
She's Protective; never wanting to see one of us get hurt.
She's Caring; always being there as a shoulder to cry on.
But most of all, she's loving.
She taught us to be everything she is.
She taught us to make mistakes, but to learn from them.
For us to be the best we can possibly be and through all the trials of life,
She will still love us unconditionally.

My Mom, The Best

My mom is the very BEST.
Rarely does she get to rest.
She cleans and washes all day long,
Loves me when I'm right or wrong.
Creative, talented, and active too.
All good things she says comes true.
That's my MOM! The very BEST,
Of course I would express no less!
