Festival showcases local artists

For a fourth year, the TreeTown Performance Festival will feature everything from theater to dance for 13-weeks at the Performance Network, 120 East Huron Ann Arbor.

Single ticket prices are $18, $15 seniors/students or save with a pass that allows admission to any show as many times as you like for $85. Call (734) 663-0681.

The festival gives local theater and dance companies a venue to present their works. Peter Sparling Dance Company kicks off the weekend performances with adaptations of his most recent pieces May 30 to June 2.

Language is My Friend follows June 6-16 with Dada Boy Paints on Canvas, a wacky romp of music, dance, characters and magic that plays with the senses and sensibilities surrounding art. Mature audiences suggested.

Mossie Youth Theatre presents heartBEAT, a musical play about love, hate and rhythm June 20-23. Chimera Theatre Company performs Tennessee Williams classic tale, A Streetcar Named Desire, June 27 to July 7. James McNeill Whistler is the subject of a play about the artist presented by Prospero Theatre Company July 11-21.

Terpichuk's Kitchen returns to the festival with a showcase of modern dance works by independent choreographers July 25-28.

A double bill Aug. 1-4 features Bill Boyer with his new one-man show Ground Zen and "spoke folk" artist Annie Gallup's cycle of songs about family, friends and ambivalent love.

Collection, a fast-paced string of one act comedies and plays follows Aug. 8-11. Greenhouse Theatre Company concludes the festival with Anton in Show Business, a backstage comedy about three actresses doing a production of Anton Chekhov's Three Sisters.

Mozart revisited: Michigan Opera Theatre returns to Spain for a new production of "The Marriage of Figaro."

MOT ends season with 'The Marriage of Figaro'

Michigan Opera Theatre revives Mozart's always popular The Marriage of Figaro in a new co-production with Opera Carolina and L'Opera de Montreal June 1-9 at the Detroit Opera House, 1626 Broadway.

Directed by Bernard Uzan with set and costume design by Allen Charles Klein, the opera features bass-baritone Robert Gierlach in the title role. Patrick Cafizzi alternates as Figaro. Sopranos Nicole Henston and Karen Driscoll share the role of Susanna, the object of Figaro's affection.

Tickets are available by calling (313) 837-SING or on-line at www.MichiganOpera.org.

Based upon a controversial play of the day, The Marriage of Figaro takes place in Spain on the day of Figaro's wedding to Susanna. Both are employed by Count Almaviva who tries to postpone the ceremony so he may enjoy the favors of Susanna before her marriage.

The production closes the season which has taken audiences around the world.

School's in for young pianists

Schoolcraft College is offering young pianists the opportunity to develop their skills through solos, duets and performances with a professional string ensemble during Summer Piano School sessions July 15-26, and July 29 to Aug. 8. The tuition for each session is $275.

In the first session the focus is on solo performances and duets. Piano students from late elementary grades through high school can enroll. Students take classes in composition, theory, rhythm, and music history. The second session highlights piano concertos and chamber music. Students will receive instruction in theory, music history, skills and technique, and perform in a number of recitals. They rehearse and perform with a professional string ensemble.

Instructors include Donald Morelock, director of the Schoolcraft piano and applied music department, and Eugene Bossart, Schoolcraft artist-in-residence.

Auditions are required for first-time Summer Piano School participants. To schedule an audition time, or for more information, call (734) 462-4403.

Schoolcraft College offers a variety of piano instruction for all ages from infant through adult.
