CHERISH
Zoe Adler is a 20-something love-starved animator who spends countless hours listening to KXCH-Cherish radio, losing herself in a syrupy romantic fantasy of 1970s and 80s pop songs.

After a mysterious car accident in which a policeman is hit and killed, Zoe is confronted with the crime. Incarcerated in the electronic music boot camp, Zoe repeatedly tries to escape her punishment. Each attempt brings another visit from her parole officer, Dale. Ironically, this relationship allows both of them to grow as they fall in love. Zoe sheds her rose colored glasses and becomes her own superhero after she discovers the truth about the accident. Featured players include Robin Tunney, Nora Dunn, Jason Priestly, Brad Hunt, Lindsay Brouse, and Liz Phair. Directed by Finn Taylor. (Fine Line) Rated R

23 CONVERSATIONS ABOUT ONE THING

The story centers on five ordinary people in New York City whose paths connect by happenstance. Gene (a manager at an insurance company), Walker (a moody police professor), Patricia (Walker's wife), Troy (a young attorney), and Bentrice (a young cleaning woman), find themselves asking what the meaning of happiness is.

Based among the ensemble are Alan Arkin, John Turturro, Matthew McConaughey, Clea DuVall, and Amy Irving. Jill Sprecher directed the drama. (Sony Classics) Rated R

WINDTALKERS

Based on historical events, the story tells of a unit of about 450 Navajo radio men who use a derivative of their Native American language to encrypt radio messages in the Pacific Theater during World War II. The code, Indecipherable to the violin, cello, guitars with drums, keyboards and saxophones."

The music ebbs and flows creating a backdrop for what unfolds before the audience. For example, the banquette act, an Italian tradition, showcases the 15 Slavic artists performing sequences of acrobatics and human pyramids.

This is the first time Cirque du Soleil is appearing in metro Detroit. "We'd like to go to all cities," said Khalil. "It's hard to find the perfect site. We come with a mini city, 150 people, a big top tent. It's like a recipe, the timing has to be right. An international sensation, Cirque du Soleil added a fifth touring show in April which allows it to visit more cities.

"We don't give an end date for our performances because we don't know what the reaction will be," said Khalil. "This is a more dramatic show, more theatherlike, it's somber, a little bit serious. Seeing our show is an emotional experience. We're not around for a long time."
