

on November 6, you can protect educational opportunities for kids and the quality of life to which your family and our community have become accustomed. How? By voting 'yes' on Proposal K. Passage of Proposal K will help IT regional cultural institutions protect educational programs for kids. These include important hands-on educational programs for kids. These hielude

Ron grams for kids. These include important hands-on educational programs in science, history, music and art offered by institutions like the Detroit Zoo, Henry Ford Museum & Greenfield Village, Holocaust Memorial Center, Cranbrook Institute of Science and Detroit Institute of Arts.

Proposal K protects field trips to zoos, museums and performances — all valuable elements of a kids education. And Proposal K helps institutions maintain classroom visits by scientists, artists, musicians, dancers and historians which lead to discovery, unexpected observations and atonishing inquiry.

These field trips and classroom programs feed our kids' imaginations and give them personal experiences with everything from chamber your toacyard. The cost Just $25 a year

Support for proposal K comes from every sector of the community including educators, business leaders, political figures, labor unions, cutural organizations large and small, and families. For our kids and quality of life for our community, please; join us by votting "Yes" on Proposal K this November 5.

Dr. Mariene Davis is superintendent for Wayne RESA intermediate school district.

Ron Kagan is director of the Detroit Zoological Institute.

Proposal K will protect

for all region's children

educational opportunities

The name game

Rocky, T-Bone. Biff. Changing your name on the November ballot wouldn't make any differ-ence anyway, Andrew. Carl Levin is a big time powerhouse in the U.S. Senate and Chairman o the Armed Services Committee.

the Armed Services Committee.
You picked a real inopportune time to run for his job. But at least it will give you some experience perhaps for things to come. Things change, Idon't think even the movie character, "Rocky," was this big an underdog, You are going to get beat-up too, but at least it won't be a physical beating.

Supports Jacobs, Vagnozzi

opportunity to be represented in Lansing next legislative session by two more talented and experienced leaders than will Farmington and Farmington Hills, when the voters elect Gilda Jacobs to the State Senate and Aldo Vagnozzi to Farmington Hills, when the voters elect Gilda Jacobs to the State Senate and Aldo Vagnozzi to the State House. Gilda Jacobs has served in city government as an officer in Huntington Woods, in county government as a member of the County Commission, and currently serves in a leadership position in the State House of Representatives. In Aldo Vagnozzi, Farmington Area voters can send to Lansing a true pillar of the community. Aldo has served the community on the Farmington School Board, as a Farmington Hills council member, and as the first generally elected Mayor of Farmington Hills. No matter his long years of service to the community, Aldo had and ready to fight for the Farmington area in Lansing. As a neighbor, I can only wish that I could join in the opportunity of sending two outstanding public servants to represent me in Lansing, Vote Jacobs for State Senate and Vagnozzi for State House on November 5.

ng. Vote Jacobs for State Senate and zzi for State House on November 5.

Moral obligation

Moral obligation

Cardinal Adam Maida issued a letter to all Catholics of the Archiclocese of Detroit. The letter was read at all October 6, 2002 Masses.

In this very important and lengthy letter, the Cardinal clarified that "Catholic public officials have a special moral obligation to understand and accept wholeheartedly the Church's teaching on the dignity of innocent human life; may never advocate for or actively support legislation which would allow direct attacks on innocent human life.

Apparently Alo Vagnozzi and Jennife
Granholm missed Mass that Sunday. These two 'pro-choice' Democrats have continued to ignore the Church's teachion with regard to the dignity of human life simply on the grounds that abortion is the law of the land, because ultimately, there is a higher law, the law of God'
All Catholics, and truly all God-fearing clizens, must vote for Valeric Knol and Dick Fosthmuss. They are people committed to protecting the innocent unborn. If we continue to accept the mentality that life is not acared and can be anuffed out at a whim, we will bring God's justice down upon us.

Clessia Taffe
Farmington Hills

Farmington Hills

Survey says.

music to the mysteries of outer space.

Each school year, approximately 1.5 million kids visit or have in-class presentations from the freedom of the transparent of the freedom of the transparent of the

Kennath Kemr

Few municipalities of the State will have the

Claudia Taffe Farmington Hills

While recognizing that an individual candidate may not control all the campaigning that is done to elect him/her. I am deeply disturbed by one of many phone calls I have received during this campaign for state representative. Unlike the dozen or so "robo calls" that were taped lengthy messages from people like "Chris from the Michigan Chamber of Commerce, this one was placed by a person who said that a he was conducting an election survey. She asked my choice for governor and for state representative. When I responded that I would wate for Aldo Vagnozzi, she asked a series of questions calculated to cast doubt on Mr. Vagnozzik ability and integrity. Each was phrased Would it change your vote if you knew..." And each question state-ed misleading or downright false information about Mr. Vagnozzi.

The name of the organization conducting the "survey" is unknown to me; however, its purpose was clearly to spread misinformation and innuendo. Is Miss Knol too naive to realize that unscrupulous people are acting so despicably in her behalf? Or is she ignorant of this campaign ploy? Or does she deal in underhanded tacties? Honest, intelligent, forthright candidates willing to take responsibility for their campaigns and political beliefs will get my ote. And in this ruce it goes to Aldo Vagnozzi.

Bonna E. Hacker

Donna E. Hacker

Supports Aldo

Supports Aldo

This district has a candidate for state representative who meets all the high qualifications we need to represent us. I support Aldo Vagnozzi for several reasons:

1. He's been elected to the Parmington Hills Board of Education, to the City Council and as Mayon. In all these positions he has dealt with city, state and federal agencies and officials, whitch has given him valuable insight and expertise into all levels of government. His opponent, newcomer Valeric Knol, has held no elective office. The only experience she to untsis her managerial position in a big business supervising the delivery of auto parts.

2. He has served as officer, member or volunteer for numerous agencies and organizations that benefit the public interest, and for this dedicated service he has received high awards and esteem from our citizens. His opponent has no extensive record of community involvement or recognition.

3. He has never pandered to special interests but fought for the public interest, unaffraid to take on large corporations such as Detroit Edison and Time-Vayrner. He's also a member of the Consumer Protective Agency; Knol has no such executed.

of the Consumer Protective Agency. Knol has no

 Focusing on the real issues that confront us 4. Focusing on the real issues that confront us citizens, Vagnozi has kept his campaign on a high moral plane. Grandstanding with platitudes, Knol engaged in deceiful, unfair tactics against members of her own Republican Party in the GOP primary last August, actions that angered many citizens of both parties. Beginning her campaign in such an unethical manner against her own fellow Republicans, we need to be wary as to what she'll pull on Vagnozzi.

Lydia Rizzo

Knol's inexperienced

Anoi's inexperienced

I appreciate your article covering the State Representative race. I am surprised at the inexperience displayed by Valerie Knol.

She tells us that education is her major issue and yet she admits to being completely ignorand fit wo major issues impacting schools; reports that charter schools are doing worse than public schools and that Farmingtonia exemplary designated Hillside was classified "a failing school" by a national ratings outfit.

According to your story, she had to go to a computer at her work site to get the information she did not have.

That's why we have to elect Aldo Vagnozzi as our State Representative. He has the experience

That's why we have to elect Aldo Vagnozza as our State Representative. He has the experience and the knowledge to deal with education, as well as other critical issues that will confront the next legislature.

Aldos experience comes from serving the

the next legislature.
Aldo's experience comes from serving the Farmington area community as Mayor, City Council, and School Board Member, as Chair of the Consumer Protection Committee, Vice Chair of the AARP, Oakland Coordinator for a group trying to improve nursing home care, and on the steering committee of the Multi-Cultural/Multi-Racial Committee.
Vagnozzi is also opposed to vouchers, while his opponent is trying to have it both ways-favoring vouchers for so-called 'failing districts' but not for the Farmington District. Does ahe favor them for the Clarenceville and Walled Lake District which cover parts of Farmington Hills or only for distance districts?
She is also for expanding charter schools, despite the fact that the respected Brookings Institute found them undernchieving as compared to public schools. Charter schools also lack accountability on how they spend their money.

TV ads this election show that campaigns have gone too far

By concocting an image of a candidate or a spla on an issue, they substitute a flickering tel-evision screen for complicate reality. By their expense, they enable one-issue interest groups and their megabucks to infest the political process. And by linking big money with a con-venient message, they grease the way for image-mentagers to dominate elec-

But as a practical matter, there's no doubt that when it

But as a practical matter, there's no doubt that when it comes to moving voters, you got a go with TV.

In these few remaining days of an unenlightening and discouraging election season, consider two television campaigns to illustrate my point. Proposal 4 is a constitution—at a mendment that would, if passed, divert some $300 million each year in tobacce settlement money to the health care industry. The proposal is supported by a 55 million advertising campaign, whose latest ad shows a woman dying of lung career in a hospital with the tag line. Don't let Big Tobacce doesn't have a deg in this fight. Opposition to Proposal 4 is virtually universal across the political spectrum — Dick Postnumus and Jennifer Granbolm, Brooks Patterson and Kwame Kilpatrick, John Engler and Ed McNamara and Frank Kelley. Support is limited to certain wealthy hospitals and the Michigan Hospital Association, whose activities re giving new meaning to the phrase "Self-serving greed."

Only a part of the $300 million would be earmarked to smoking prevention programs. Something like $3 million a year would go to three guys in Lansing who have nothing to do with health care, while most of the public money would go to private hospital corporations that have no obligation to come clean about how they're spending it.

But if the polis are to be believed, Proposal 4 has a good chance of passing. TV advertising works.

mas a good chance or passing a varietism works.

The second example has to do with TV das being run in support of Posthumus' campaign for governor. One has a clip of Granholm appearing to support reparations for former slaves, while the other runs a may shot of Detroit Mayor Kwame Klipatrick which suggests that electing Granholm would mean a blank check for Detroit.

Both ada are outright distortions. And in slinging the mud, both ads wallow into outright meial polities in a way I have never seen before in a Michigan statewide campaign.

A lot of people agree. The Detroit News, nor-

What's interesting about the ad is that 'Big Tobacco' doesn't have a dog in this fight. Opposition to Proposal 4 is virtually universal across the political spectrum -Dick Posthumus and Jennifer Granholm, Brooks Patterson and Kwame Kilpatrick. John Engler and Ed McNamara and Frank Kelley, Support is limited to certain wealthy hospitals and the Michigan Hospital Association, whose activities are giving new meaning to the phrase 'self-serving mally a reliable supporter for Republican candidates, called the ads 'vile and racially divisive' and suggested that the paper was 'fast wearying of the campaign's fixation on race baiting and 'gotcha' politics.' Former GOP Gow. William Milliken last week attacked the ads as 'morally wrong and politically stupid.'

But, again, if the polis are to be believed, the ads are working. Support for Posthumus, especially among men in northern Michigan, appears to be picking up.

Interestingly, there's a link between both campaigns: Former Engler PR boss Dan Pero is both Posthumus' campaign manager and a partner in Lansing-based Sterling Corp., which is producing the "big tobacco" ads for Proposal 4.

When I called Pero last week to ask how he felt about running a campaign advocating a proposal that his candidate for governor is opposing, he replied he was "perfectly comfortable with the situation." He explained he has always favored the tobacco settlement money going for health care and that Posthumus has known all along his position on Proposal 4. The book on Pero is that he's a very able, imaginative and decent PR guy whos got himself two lucrative clients this time around. My take is that if a guy as decent as Dan Pero is involved in creating a couple of smarmy but effective TV ad campaigns, that's the best evidence that things have gone much too fax. When I called Pero last week to ask how he

Phil Power is the chairman of the board of the company that owns this newspaper. He would be pleased to get your reactions to this column either at (734) 953-2206 or at civic organizations, chambers of commerce, state legislators and community leaders support full and long distance competition.

More than 60

For more information on this and other telecommunications issues, visit www.connectmichigan.org

(SÉC)

Michigan telephone Consumers want convenience of "one shopping" with Support is growing throughout Michigan for SBC Ameritech's entry into the long distance market to compete against big companies like AT&T and MCI WorldCom. More than 60 civic organizations, chambers of commerce, state legislators and community leaders throughout Michigan are supporting the convenience and competition that will come with full local and long distance competition. Here's a look at some of the statewide supporters:

- The Committee of C

- The Sect Cause Foundate
- of Michigan

 Michael Sal, Kent Dourty Commiss
 Joseph Jones, 2nd Ytos President,
 Grand Rapale MACP

 Metodes T. Tothey

- Mercader T. Schey
 Richages State Legistation
 Rep Red Jordon R-Lengt Speak
 of the House
 Rep Status Buzz Thomas IR
 Chance House Dam Leader
 Rep Status Buzz Thomas IR
 Rep State More Humany
 Rep State More Humany
 Rep State Shaper D-Battle One
 Sen Nati Dramasous R-Lengt One
 Sen Nati Dramasous R-Lengt One
 Sen Nati Dramasous R-Lengt One
 Sen Palay Dramasous R-Lengt One

The Michigan Public Service Commission is considering a recommendation to the Federal Communications Commission about SBC's long distance application for Michigan. Although some big, out of state long distance companies will make noise, we hope to file with the FCC before the end of the year and begin offering long distance service to Michigan customers in the first quarter 2003. When SBC is granted approval, consumers will have the convenience of one-stop shopping with competitive rates. Consumers in many states already enjoy these benefits... why not Michigan?

Diane Webb Director External Affairs