Keep Eye On Dan Neward

By SUE SHAUGHNESSY Entertainment Editor

There's a new young vocalist in the area that will brighten the days of the over-30 segment of the population.

He's Dan Neward, whose style brings back memories of the big bands and soloists of a bygone era.

During a recent concert in Farmington, Neward dominated the stage with no other aid for his voice but a hand-mike.

THE 20-YEAR-OLD Detroiter has appeared on local radio and TV shows and with various theatrical groups in the area.

He was featured with Don Large and the University of Detroit Chorus at Expo '87 in Montreal. He has appeared in leading roles in the Mercy High School production of "West Side Story" and the Oakland Community College summer production of "The Fantasticks."

In this day of the rock and roll idols, it's nice to discover that his favorite female vocalists are Judy Garland and Liza Minnelli, while his favorite male singers are Jack Jones, John Davidson and Ed Ames.

The parents in the audience shared the teens' enthusiasm.
