Marx Layne promotes Marx Layne & Company — a full-service marketing and public relations agency — has promoted Robyn Gorell from the position of senior account executive to account supervisor.

'Mike Campbell was also promoted to senior account executive from account executive.

The announcement was many by agency partners Fred Marx, Michael Layne and Don Michael Layoe and Don Tanner.

As an account supervisor, Corell will serve and counsel clients in the nonprofit, health care, education and commercial sectors, including Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit, National Multiple Subsective. National Multiple Sclerosis Society-Michigan Chapter and University Business Interiors.

Gorell heads the Marx Layne nonprofit and education divi-sions. She joined Marx Layne in November 1998.

Prior to joining Marx Layne, Prior to joining Marx Layne, Gorell spent several years in community relations, govern-ment relations and journalism. She earned a B.A. degree in communications with honors from Oakland University. She is accredited in public relations (APR). As a senior account execu-tive, Campbell serves clients in the automotive and real estate industries, including Audi, Toll Brothers, Realcomp, Key Plastics and Altair. Campbell also conducts Media Relations Training for Mars Layre clients.

Media Relations Training for Mark Layne clients. He joined Mark Layne in May 2001 and prior to that time spent eight years as a media relations consultant for automotive companies, and nearly 20 years as a radio news reporter and anchor. He is a licensed Broker of Real Estate license and remains active in journalism as a weekend radio news anchor. Campbell earned B.S. degrees in economics and English/creative writing from Northern Michigan University.

Wine tasting at Schoolcraft to benefit local charities

The Detroit International Wine Experience, a benefit for the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Center in Farmington Hills, will present approximately 400 wine entries from around the world to a prestigious panel of judges on Saturday, March 29.
Wine specialists from many disciplines including restaurateurs, sommeliers, retailers, chefs and journalists will choose the medal winners in a "blind" judging, followed by an After Flow reception open to the public. The events will take place at Schoolcraft College in The After Flow, held 6-8:30 p.m., will be followed by an hour of "Coffee & Comedy." The evening will also include entertainment, hors d'oeuvres, silent auction and a sampling of 400 world-class wines.

Tickets are 835 per person and can be purchased by calling (586) 795-2165 or via Internet, www.localwincevents.com.

Wine taxting at all price points is more accessible than it ever has been, "said Bob Visconti, president of Detroit International Wine Experience." An array of high quality wines continue to enter the metro Detroit market."

Judges in this year's competi-

Judges in this year's competi-tion include Madeline Triffon, Unique Restaurant Corporation's Master nmelier; Marshall Chin. Mon Jin Lau; Kristin Jonna, Merchant's Fine Wine; Ray and Eleanor Heald, Observer and Eccentric Newspapers wine columnists, and more.

There will also be seminars and special testings listed on the site that are held in and around the metro Detroit area leading up to the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Center's annual fund-raising 'Garden Party' gala on June 8. The center's and June 8. The center's and the seminary and the seminary series of the seminary contains the seminary and the seminary series of the seminary contains Party gala on June 8. The cen-ter provides care and assistance for troubled children and teen parents. In addition to SVSFC, Detroit International Wine parenta. In addition to 370-c.
Detroit International Wine Experience, a nonprofit organization, will donate proceeds from the event to The Children's Center and Schoolcraft College Calinary
Salon Team.
For more information, visit www.detroitwineexperience.co m.

Service people offered spa services

Tamara Spa is offering all active military who are currently on leave from their duties in the Middle East free spa services with proper identification.

America is the strongest country because of our military, said owner Tamara Friedman. Fid love to treat them to complimentary spa services as a thank you for defending our country."

Stress is common to all of us but our military and service personnel perhaps deal with the greatest amounts of stress. After taking time out at Tamara Spa to receive a massage, Jaeuzzi, facial, sauna or even body treatments, Friedman hopes that service personnel will emerge renewed in body, mind, and spirit enabling them to relieve their stress levels.

We don't often get to see our service men and women to extend our appreciation, so this is my way of giving heart-felt thanks, she said.

Reservations can be made by calling (248) 855-0474.

Red Cross sets 'Together We Prepare'

The Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross is celebrating Red Cross thought the March by launching a new campaign called "Together We Prepare Michigan." The Southeastern Michigan Chapter Joins more than 1,000 American Red Cross chapters, Blood Services regions and Armed Forces Emergency Services stations nationwide in working to make the United States safer from disaster. The Southeastern Michigan Chapter is encouraging local residents to Join a grassroots effort to make sure southeast Michigan is better prepared should disaster strike by doing five simple things: make a plan, build a kit, get trained, volunteer and give blood.

With the possibility of war,
terrorist attacks, natural disasters and everyday emergencies, being prepared can help save lives' says Jim Laverty, CBO of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter. "These five actions of Together We Prepare" will help metro Detroit residents make their homes, schools, workplaces and communities safer.

"The Red Cross is in nearly country, so we are well-posi-tioned to organize prepared-ness activities," says Laverty. "Every individual has the opportunity to play an impor-tant role. When we come tant role. When we come together we become something bigger than us all."

For more information on "Together We Prepare," including how to make a plan, build a kit, get trained, volunteer and give blood, visit www.semredcross.org.

For information of the Red Cross, visit the Web site or call (313) 833-2664.

Plan your weekend

activities each Thursday with Arts & Entertainment

