HAS AUTOMATIC CHOKE

Practically all of the new automobile models embody features designed to reduce driving strain. Noteworthy among them is the new Essex which is equipped with an automatic choking device.

Instead of constantly choking his motor after starting it on a cold morning, the driver of the new Essex need only pull out the choke button half way and from then on the choking action is entirely automatic and closes when the motor becomes thoroughly warmed.

LIGHT

For Your Goods—

Not Your Customer's Eyes

It should not be forgotten that light may conceal an object as well as display it; that the uncomfortable glare of a bright light in a customer's eye may easily divert his interest from the goods you wish to sell him.

A common fault in store lighting is incorrect arrangement of lighting fixtures; mistaken choice of lighting fixtures is another. Window lighting requires a certain definite intensity; interior lighting requires a different intensity—both quantities should be accurately measured, in "foot candles."

It will cost you nothing to have your lighting inspected by our engineers. We may be able to make recommendations which, if followed, may be profitable to you
