CROWDS AT FIRST "TALKIE" SHOWING IN THIS DISTRICT

Theatre Filled To Overflowing For Opening Night at Kunsky-Redford

Numerous Farmington residents attended the first showing in the Grand River district of talking motion pictures, at the Kunsky-Redford Theatre Tuesday evening. The initial showing filled the theatre to overflowing, and long lines of people were formed along the sidewalk.

"Lights of New York," an all-talking picture, claimed to be the first of the kind, was the attraction. Next week the first talking picture to score a great success, "The Jazz Singer," with Al Jolson, will be shown, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Manager Lane, of the Kunsky-Redford, points out that although the equipment for talking pictures costs thousands of dollars and requires an extra operator, there has been no increase in prices.
