

CHURCHES

Methodist Church
 Dr. H. Addis Leeson, Pastor
 Members and friends of the church are in happy anticipation of the Mother's Day Sunday and the special program which will be presented. The minister, Dr. Leeson, will speak on the subject, "God's Tenderest Promise." Frequent and complimentary words are being spoken in regard to the exceptionally fine musical numbers which our choir is presenting.
 The postponed May Day opening exercise will be enjoyed at the beginning of the Sunday School hour.
 And in the evening the famous Peace film, a five-reel production with a happy thread of romance and adventure as well as the story of the World's Peace Conference.
 The Epworth League will also begin afresh and hold its first meeting at 6:30 p. m.

GIVE OUT BOOKLET ON WIRING FOR THE FARM

District managers of The Detroit Edison Company are distributing to the 8000 farmers served by the company a new publication called "Farm Wiring," printed on cornstalk paper made in Michigan mills. This booklet brings to the attention of the farm family the many labor-saving devices for the farm and the farm home which do a variety of jobs from detecting burglars to cutting postage. Non-technical and generously illustrated with actual photographs of farms served by Detroit Edison, it was prepared by the Company's Farm Service Division, which is experienced in both farm problems and in electric service.

Senator Ingalls has said: "We punish the man who steals a loaf of bread; we hail the man who by monopolies makes the loaf smaller and coarser." If a man steals a bar of ton, we railroad him to prison; if he steals an entire carload, we say he is a financier."
 Arthur Brisbane has said: "He who steals a suit of clothes goes to jail. He who appropriates a hundred million goes to Europe."
 And last week the Oakland County newspapers carried an account of a Negro being sentenced to from five to fifteen years in prison, because he stole some chickens.
 We believe we understand Senator Ingalls and Arthur Brisbane.—Birmingham Eccentric.

By EDNA PURDY WALSH
Save the Old Umbrella
 THE old umbrella has many uses. Do not throw it away until some of them have been tried. One of them is its practical use as a clothes basket. In the absence of a clothes basket, one helpful husband found that the umbrella with the curved handle saves stooping and walking. It hangs on the clothes line full of clothes, and can be pushed along on the line as the hanging garments, done away with walking back and forth to the clothes basket.
 Choice plants and vegetables may be protected from the hot sun during the torrid days of summer by old umbrella from which the bulky handle has been removed so that they can be easily slipped into the ground. Even the umbrella which will not protect against rain, will nurse and protect a tender plant which would otherwise die from too much heat.

 One young man made an admirable shower bath by taking the frame of an umbrella and sewing rubber to its tips to make a curtain around him while water was sprayed from above. His curtain was of course collapsible so that it could be folded away when not in use.

Dodging a Debt

"Well," said the lawyer to an acquaintance, "how goes the world with you?"
 "Splendid! Magnificent!" said the other. "I wish I could get away to the races every day."
 "How's that?"
 "Oh, I went there yesterday and made $10,000."
 "That's very good indeed!" said the lawyer. "And it's rather fortunate, too, because Jones has come to me about a little matter of $50 you owe him. You might as well pay him now, mightn't you?"
 "H-m-m!" coughed the other. "I am a little absent-minded sometimes. I said $10,000, but I meant $10. I simply put too many noughts on the end. Yes, it was $10—and I haven't been able to get it yet."—Argosy.
