Ring Gets Shaved on Porch

By RING LARDNER

To the Editor:

I hope you boy and girl readers won't be bored on acct. of me writing the events on Long's Island every little wile but really things do happen here that I don't believe they happen nowheres else. Like for inst. the other evening I was setting at home working like a dog though I never yet seen a dog that done any real work, but anyways a prominent citizen, who his name I won't mention, but he called up a paper hangers and he called up and says I am coming over to see you and bring 2 friends. If I am I please don't come right now as I am working and besides which I ain't neither dressed or shaved. But he says we will be right over, so what was they left to do only for me to for to get dressed as soon as possible and did not have time to shave.

Well they come over and I met them on the porch and served them a couple of ice cold drinks of one kind another and one of his friends was a gal and the other was a man and he introduced me to the gal but did not say nothing about the man, so we sat down on the porch and to make conversation I says well if I had of knew that I was going to have company I would of shaven myself.

Where as the stranger to who I had not been introduced says wait a minute and leapt up and went out to the prominent citizen's car and brought in his satchel which contained a full barber's kit and he come in and stropped his razor and asked me where I kept the hot water and I says we like in a kind of out of the way place and don't have no hot water so he says right I will show you with no hot water. So he shaved me there on the porch and the passers by was certainly astounded, and said what a swell guy that must be to have a barber come and shave him on his own porch. Afterwards it developed that this party to who I had not been introduced was the prominent citizen's personal barber and the reason he had not introduced me to him was because he did not know his name.

Well either that night or the next night they was some company come in and one of them was Jules Schwob who is Florence Moore's husband and somebody suggested a game of bridge and as bad luck would have it I got Mr. Schwob for a partner and the dealer dealt and passed and it was my bid and I bidded 2 spades and the lady on my left passed and my partner doubled.

As far as I was concerned that was a brand new convention and for a minute I was mystified. But the others did not seem to think nothing much about it and doubled and they left me in and I made 2 spades which was doubled and redoubled by my partner and I so we made a whole lot more than if we had just played it plain 2 spades. You learn every day.

Well the bridge game finely broke up in a terrible row and we decided to play charades at whom I am a master. The idear was to give the names of prominent people in Great Neck of who they are a great many and I won't tell what other charades people give because they were not so good but will give you one I done.

I says I will be the name of a prominent actress who has been both on the stage and on the screen and always wears pretty clothes. Her name is in 5 syllables. The first syllable is the 12th letter in the alphabet and is a consonant. The second syllable was to visualize. The third syllable was the past tense of the preposition for. The fourth syllable was a German and the fifth syllable was his boy.

After several hours they all give up. The answer was Elsie Ferguson. Virtually everybody laughed except Frank Craven.

Well one day we went over to the finals of a gals' tennis matches which they held them at Forest Hills and if you can find any forest or any hills you are a better man than I am Emile Coue but any ways that is what they call it and the finals was between a very young gal from El Paso and another not so young gal from Natchez and the El Paso gal kind of romped in so I made the remark that youth will be served and her wisely laughingly called my wife said yes but it is even worse when she is doing the serving herself. Girls will be girls.

That is about all the news that has happened on Long's Island since I seen you last and I hope you ain't bored with it but if so will give you the promise that you won't hear nothing more about it for a wk. at the outside.

Youth

Youths are not necessarily happy; youth is. It means freedom, strength, courage, curiosity, adventure, growth, plasticity, movement, action; disdain of danger and death and indifference to self; passion to discover life and create it anew. Youth faces the future, champs at the bit, dares greatly, counts no cost. Without conviction, it will explore; without wisdom, it will experiment; without knowledge, it will learn; without adventure, it will venture.

Youth is as remote from infancy as from senility. It created human culture and alone can save the human race. Human immortality flowers with youth; enduring happiness abides in eternal youth. To be happy is to be young.—George A. Dorsey, in Cosmopolitan.
