FIREMEN EXTINGUISH STUBBORN GRASS FIRE

Farmington firemen after nearly an hour's hard work subdued a grass-fire in Farmington Woods subdivision, Saturday afternoon. The blaze started near Orchard Lake road and north of Shiawassee street and was swept rapidly westward by a strong wind.

The firemen extinguished the flames by beating them out with wire brooms and limbs of trees. Dense smoke and intense heat forced them to work in relays. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Dearborn—School building will be erected on Jim Daly road and Annapolis avenue.

CAR OVERTURNS, UNHURT
"Gwen" Lancaster, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Farrand of Valley View avenue, Farmington, escaped injury when the car he was driving overturned at the foot of the Shiawassee street hill, east of Warner avenue. The boy, driving his mother's car, got on the brakes at the moment the car hit a bad bump, and the sedan overturned into the ditch. The roof of the car was slightly damaged.

Cromwell's Music
Before Oliver Cromwell became Protector, music was proscribed in England. And as Cromwell was musically inclined, he had a professional musician among the members of his household. When, by the authority of parliament, the organ was removed from the chapel of Magdalen college, Cromwell had it erected at Hampton court, where he resided, and frequently had Milton to play it. At the restoration the organ was returned to Magdalen college, but after some years it was disposed of and re-erected in Tewkesbury abbey, where part of it remained in use until a few years ago.
