How to Start a Fortune

Here are the secrets of accumulating millions, told by millionaires. Is Andrew Carnegie's advice worth taking? Well, it made a good many millions of dollars for him. The late Marshall Field tells how he rose to be the merchant prince of America. Henry Clews tells the secret of his rise from book-keeper to Wall Street magnate; to wit.—

Do not spend more than three-quarters of your income for living. Be careful of your store debts. Have a bank account in the

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Gradually the authorities in our educational matters are coming to appreciate the value of a thorough business education. It is now seen that a knowledge of business methods and customs is of more practical value to the average young person than a full course in the dead languages or even higher mathematics. The graduates of the well known Detroit Business University, which for more than 60 years has been giving a splendid training for business pursuits have been active in advancing the claims of business education and of this particular school. This has much to do with the fact that this institution is everywhere regarded as the pioneer and the par excellence today among business training schools.

HOME MAKING

The first step in buying or building a home is the Savings Account.

Everybody should have a home of his own. A savings account with this bank, with regular deposits from the income, will provide the money for the first payment upon one. The sooner you begin, the sooner you will live in your own home.

BIG CROWD OUT TO HEAR KELLY

REPUBLICAN COUNTY NOMINEES WERE ALL PRESENT

The Farmington Town Hall was crowded to the doors and the Masterful Speech Was Thoroughly Enjoyed

The Republican meeting at the Farmington town hall last Saturday night, in point of attendance, enthusiasm and accomplishment, was about all that the most hopeful Republican could well ask for. The hall was packed from end to end by people who gave evidence that they had come to hear the discussion of the current issues and were there to be enlightened, if possible, upon the questions of governmental policy which are now before the voters.

The candidates for the Republican county offices were there and Chairman Fred M. Warner gave each one an opportunity to say a few words to the crowd before the speaker of the evening was called on.

The county candidates are mostly well and favorably known in this community and have many friends in Farmington. They certainly are a bunch of clean, intelligent and honest looking men and the impression they made was entirely in their favor.

Everybody expected a masterful address from Patrick H. Kelley and no one was disappointed. His wonderfully fair and dispassionate arguments were so well elucidated that every point was made so clear that the most obtuse could easily understand him at every moment. There is no question but that his arguments will sink deep into the minds of all who heard him and that voters will hesitate long before they decide to jump from a safe and prosperous condition to an unknown and, at least, an uncertain one. "Let well enough alone" seems to be a slogan that is gaining ground every day as the people give thought to the approaching election.

Governor Warner gave some comparative figures showing prices paid for milk during our former Democratic experience and at the present time. As the platform of the Democratic party this fall is the same in relation to the tariff that it was in 1892 the same result may be expected from a Democratic victory.

The meeting lasted until a late hour, but the crowd, which included many from Redford and other points, listened with deep interest throughout.

Funeral of Geo. Lee

The funeral of George Lee of Franklin, who died Wednesday morning, will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at Franklin. Mr. Lee is said to be the last of the charter members of Farmington Masonic lodge.

FARMERS SHOULD COMPARE PRICES

Republican County Committee Has Dug up Some Figures of Democratic Times

Comparison of prices of farm products under the last Democratic administration with prices of today, taken from market reports of Oakland County Post of Oct. 5, 1894, and Pontiac Press Gazette of October 3, 1912:

	1894	Today
Wheat No. 1 white	48c	$1.00
Oats	30c	40c
Corn, shelled	45c	80c
Rye	43c	62c
Beans	$1.25	$2.40
Hay No. Timothy	$9.00	$16.00
Hay, Clover	7.00	12.00
Butter	18c	31c
Cattle	2c	9½c
Hides	2c	7c
Wool	8c	20c
Hogs, live	$4.00	$8.50

The tariff plank in the Democratic platform of today is the same as then. A vote for Wilson is a vote for those prices, a vote for Roosevelt is a half vote for them, but a vote for William Howard Taft is a vote for a continuance of these prices and four years more of prosperity. Don't you think Mr. Voter it's best to

"Let Well Enough Alone."

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

Grace's Auto Tipped Over

A few days ago while returning from Pontiac, Eugene Grace met with his first auto mishap. With him were Messrs. Meyers, Dillon and Ryder and while driving at only a speed of about eight miles the machine skidded on the wet road and in its slide struck against a stone and turned over on its side. A few bruises were sustained by all and Ben added to the sensation by fainting away. He soon recovered and made his excuses and the machine was righted and brought the passengers home. The top was badly smashed.

Mrs. Maria Mason

Mrs. Maria Mason, who had been in the State Hospital at Pontiac for many years, died at that institution Sunday. The remains were taken to Northville, where the funeral was held Wednesday at the home of her brother, A. B. Smith. Interment was made at the Quaker cemetery in Farmington. Mrs. Mason was a former resident of Farmington.

Spend Winter in California

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Schroder have closed up their store at Cass Lake and on Wednesday left on their long contemplated trip to California. They will visit relatives and friends near Los Angeles and will probably stay on the coast until spring when they expect to return and open their store again at the lake.

Marvin Hultz Severely Injured

Marvin Hultz was seriously injured while in Detroit Tuesday. A wheel came off his wagon and he was thrown to the pavement sustaining severe bruises about the back and head. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital. Mr. Hultz lives toward Novi from Farmington. Dr. E. F. Holcomb was in Detroit Wednesday with his auto and brought Mr. Hultz to Farmington and he was, later removed to his home.

The Farmington Guild meets next Monday night with Alma Ely.
