ATHLETICS

Losing the last home game to Plymouth last Thursday, Farmington boys hope for better results with their games with Dearborn, Northville and Howell.

In spite of the cold and rain, a comparatively large crowd turned out to see Farmington defeated, 6 to 0.

The boys entered the game with more spirit than they have thus far shown.

Plymouth seemed to be the superior team, but with hard battling on Farmington's part, the opposing team was kept from getting more than one touchdown.

"French" intercepted a long pass by Plymouth.

During the third quarter Farmington was very near the goal line. Line play and end runs were tried but no headway could be made.

Play started to pick-up, then play started to grab the ball, was off for an end run but was brought down with a loss of 5 yards.

A pass by Plymouth in the fourth quarter which would have meant another touchdown for Plymouth was knocked down by Cox. The lineup was as follows:

- L. E. Turner.
- L. G. Jyleen.
- L. G. Lapham.
- C. Nicholson.
- E. G. Gravin.
- R. T. Grimme.
- R. E. Young.
- L. H. Fend.
- Q. B. Mesaki.
- R. B. McCully.
- E. D. Drake.

Substitutions: Cox for Turner; Cairns for Young.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

A special assembly program was given by the High School Band, Orchestra and Girls' Glee Club.

Mr. Crawford called the assembly to order and then turned the program over to Mr. Bates. As the first selection the Band played "Saba." Then the Girls' Glee Club sang the "Rosary."

After this song Mr. Crawford interrupted the musical program to present a loving cup to the school which had been won by the tennis team last spring.

Mr. Crawford introduced the team consisting of E. Perry, M. Fink, R. Russell, V. Otis, and D. Murphy and their loyal coach, Mr. Bisbee.

The musical program was resumed at this point and the selection "Autumn Days" was played by the orchestra. "The Dance Song" sung by the Glee Club came next and was followed by "College Boy" played by the band.

At this time a lusty outburst from the students called for an encore and then the program was brought to a close with "Military Escort."

MR. BAKER A HERO—ALMOST

The dagger was in the air slowly descending upon the prostrate body. Death to the man on the floor seemed certain. Suddenly all was quiet and the colorful Arab rose in the middle of his blood-thirsty deed and rushed from the scene.

Soon he was back again and the fight started all over. They wrestled and fought until the Arab was on his back, beneath the body of his attacker.

Then, a strange thing happened. A look of supernaturalness came upon the defeated one. It raised the other young man to his feet, bewildered and again the Arab was on top. Suddenly that treacherous dagger was raised high, ready to end the life of the innocent victim.

The half doo opened and Mr. Baker rushed in terrified to stop this deed, if possible.

"Don't interfere," whispered Miss MacKeller, "Don and Phil must get that scene right if the senior play is to be a success."

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Monday and Tuesday were free days for the students of F. H. S., because teachers went to the annual Teachers' Institute held in the ninth district of Michigan at Ann Arbor. In previous years it has been held in Detroit.

PERSONALS

Virginia Adams, 29, is again working at the Smith Drug store.

Mildred Stanley spent the week end in Albion.

Miss Hyde also attended the home-coming at the Michigan State College at Lansing.

The High School Foods' Class is serving breakfasts and comparing them as to cost and quality.

Miss Marie Walling was a guest at Miss Roe's home in Evert, Mich., over the week end.

GAME WITH DEARBORN

November 1st is the date set for the first game to be played for Farmington. The game will be played with Dearborn.

Dearborn's victories over Farmington in the last four years are as follows: 1928, 13 to 0; 1927, 10 to 0; 1926, 2 to 0; and in 1925, 10 to 0. In their three games with Dearborn they won from Northville and Plymouth but were defeated by Wayne.

THIS WEEK A YEAR AGO

The Honor Roll for the first month of the 1928-29 school year boasted of 33 names, with 3 more names than this year's Honor Roll.

The Student Council decided against a school annual at one of their regular meetings.

The Social Committee decided to sponsor "matinee dances," which would be held after the close of the football season.

Farmington was defeated by Wayne, on the home gridiron, 13 to 7, for its fourth successive year.

LIBRARY CORNER

An exceedingly interesting book of essays which deserves mention in the "Library Corner" is "Sesame and Lillies," "The Two Paths," and "The King of the Golden River," by John Ruskin.

Sesame is a lecture on reading and the right use of words and "Lillies" is a mother lecture by John Ruskin which was delivered by him at Manchester in 1864.

This lecture is on the ideals of womanhood and the vital education of it.

It is illustrated by women from the poems of Scott and Shakespeare, to bring out their chivalry, to make the woman of this country seek the beautiful, and to give their children a chance for better education.

"The Two Paths," is a group of short lectures on art, which includes a description of almost every different type of art known.

The fourth and last section of this book is a fairy tale, "The King of the Golden River," which is divided into two parts. One which tells of the "loss of paradise" and the other the "regaining of paradise," one lost by selfishness and the other regained by love.

EDITORIAL

Everybody should be there! The class is trying to put all they have into the Senior Play this year to make it a success.

We know that they are paying forth very effort they possess, and in return the support and consideration of the entire High School is expected.

The play itself is unusual and the audience should be held to the very end.

Those who saw the Junior play know of the talents in the class and some of these are taking prominent parts. This fact should guarantee the listener's enjoyment.

It was decided at the Student Council meeting last Wednesday that they would pay their small debts first and leave the larger ones until they received the annual $300 from School Board.

The date of the Plymouth game was changed to Thursday and LaVerne Turner was asked to sell tickets for there were not the ninth district of Michigan at Ann Arbor. In previous years it has been held in Detroit.

Each member was appointed to see a teacher in the Grade School about the activities taking place for the season.

The Social Committee was called to order by Miss Hyde last Thursday at 10 o'clock. The meeting was given over to the discussion of the rules for high school parties, who could be left the same as for last year except the one which stated that a student could not leave the gymnasium without permission.

It was changed to read that pupils could not leave the school without permission.

A masquerade party was discussed and will be given November 1 at 7:30 o'clock. Prizes will be given for the best costumes for a boy and a girl.

Elroy Edwards is in charge of music, Lucille Jacobs in charge of games, Elizabeth Turner in charge of eats and Harold Graham is in charge of publicity.

The admission fee will be 15 cents.

FIFTH ANNUAL FAIR AT WALLED LAKE SUCCESS

The fifth annual Walled Lake School and Community Fair opened on Thursday afternoon with the largest exhibit yet held. The gymnasium was filled with exhibits from the business places in town, apples, vegetables, poultry, rabbits and fancy work.

One room entirely is given over to potatoes and the manual training exhibit.

Rooms on the first floor also contain school exhibits with other exhibits on the balcony.

The future farmers of America under the direction of W. C. Proctor, have charge of the fair. Premiums were awarded Friday.

Harold Vaughn was judge of grain and potatoes; Evert Bristol of fruit, honey and vegetables; Miss Weld, home economics; M. E. Hath and M. H. Avery judge of poultry, manual arts and sheep.

Thursday night Dr. Paul Peterson of the Presbyterian Church in Pontiac was the speaker. He gave a most interesting talk but owing to lack of publicity only a few were present.

The Sophomore class presented a play "Too Much Of A Good Thing." A Mother Goose health play was presented by the third grade.

On Friday night the Senior class presented a comedy "All On A Summer Day" and the Juniors "Fun In A Photographer's Studio."

The Junior Art Club had a refreshment booth, the seventh grade a fish pond, the eighth grade a baseball game. The Freshman class sold popcorn and candy, and the 4-H Art Club sold pop and other refreshments.

The girls of the Junior Home Economics Club served sandwich at tables in the hall. The first and second grades had a grab bag and sold home made candy.

The fifth and sixth grades had a bakery shop and the fourth grade a movie and health exhibit.

Ninety-nine prizes were offered. A catalogue on which the business-men co-operated, was prepared by the club.

Warship Sets Record For Lengthy Pennant

After United States men of war have been on foreign service for more than a year they are entitled to fly the home-ward-bound pennant due to their departure from the home port and the home-ward-bound pennant is a coat-of-whipped anchor having a red and white stripe running its length with the exception of the blue field surmounted by thirteen stars at its head.

The length of this pennant is determined by the number of men and officers in the crew. One foot is allowed for each individual in the ship's crew. The longest home-ward-bound pennant flown in recent years was the Pittsburgh when she returned from four years' service as flagship of the American forces in European waters.

This pennant was 300 feet long. The length of this pennant is determined by the number of men and officers in the crew. One foot is allowed for each individual in the ship's crew.

"The girl came riding in on a mighty wave that crashed on the beach in a smother of foam. She emerged, glowing like a sunset, her hair gleaming in the water, her orange-colored gown glowing like some bright tropical blossom on her lovely head. The receding waves were in her panting on the sand. Mrs. Mordant looked up from her book as the wave broke, and she received a faint shower of spray that brought the salt savor of the sea to her delicate lips. She smiled imperiously at the husband who stood left by the wave and would have resumed her reading but the girl's low, thrilling voice held her attention.

"Oh, oh," she exclaimed. "I have cut myself." She sat down, displaying a small wet foot, with a crimson stain on the sole. "If I had a handkerchief—"

"She shrugged, and reached for a handkerchief from her pocket.

"Take this," said Mrs. Mordant, gracefully, tossing a snowy bit of linen into the lifted hands. "I believe I have another one—here."

She drew out another handkerchief and sent the girl to dry the little cut, tying the corners of the handkerchief in the little upstanding ears. The girl laughed.

"The rabbit ears are a doll—thank you so much for your kindness, and she handed the little—'I must return them some day.'"

"It does not matter, I hope the wound is not painful."

"Very slight, thank you. May I sit here in front for awhile? I am rather tired."

"Do not go until you have rested. Are you stopping at one of the hotels at the point?"

"Yes, at the Harrington."

"Did you swim that distance?"

"Yes, but it is nothing—only the surf is strong here—and I thought I have to rise above obstacles when I can."

"I have friends stopping at the Harrington Mrs. Mordant said at last; 'the Sandersons.'"

"Ah, yes, I have seen them, but I am not acquainted; they are very rich and fashionable, and I am a poor little mouse."

"They are delightful people—"

"hesitated and her fine face colored painfully. 'Miss Amy Sanderson is very dear to me—almost as a daughter.'"

"The girl's face seemed to glow smaller as the happy light died out of it. 'Miss Sanderson should be very happy,' she said with wistful eyes.

"Why?"

"So well-beloved—so welcome as a daughter."

Mrs. Mordant laughed kindly. "I am sure you will be as gladly well-liked some day."

"I afraid not," said the girl slowly. "I am quite a humble person, Mrs. Mordant."

"You know who I am?" asked the older woman, startled.

"The girl nodded. 'I have seen your picture. I am what you would call an actress—I entertain children of the rich—they love me—they love my stories and songs. My people are French—heros, many of them—honorable—all of them—but I am not a noble—no, no, no—I am only a young man.'"

The Garden Pea

THERE are a number of wild vegetables and lupins, but no plant that can be identified with the garden pea has ever been found growing wild. Botanists are inclined to ascribe its origin from the region south of the Caucasus whence the Aryans came into Europe, and there is evidence that it is at least as old, used as human food, as the rice grain, wheat and wheat, to Clark, Howard, February 16, 1921, by deed recorded March 16, 1921, in Liber 3 of Deeds, page 211, Oakland County Register of Deeds office, and also appearing there, conveyed by Thomas Harbour and wife, to Samuel Jones and James H. May, 21, 1921, by deed recorded December 8, 1920 in Liber 4 of Deeds, page 157, said Recorder's Office.
