FIRE CHIEF GREETED BY ALARM ON RETURN FROM TWO WEEKS TRIP

Saturday, just as E. L. McQuern, fire chief at Walled Lake village, drove into Walled Lake after a two weeks' stay at Dallas, Tex., the fire siren sounded. Mr. McQuern parked his car, jumped on the fire truck and rode to the Rice Service Station, at the corner of the Commerce and Pontiac road. The fire was put out before the department arrived, with fire extinguishers, but only the prompt use of the extinguishers saved the gas station and pumps.

The blaze was caused when the occupant of a roadster lit a cigarette and threw his match on the ground while his car was being filled. The side of the gas station was badly scorched and one of the pumps slightly burned. The car was only slightly burned and was pushed out of the way by the owner.

NEED OF FORESTRY IS OUTLINED BY SPEAKER

The need of "Forestry" was discussed by Prof. James F. Dubar of the New York College of Forestry at the Walled Lake Exchange Club on Tuesday. Prof. Dubar was formerly a resident of Northville.

He called attention to the value of forestry to keep woods for recreation purposes and to the need of rebuilding of forests, from an economic standpoint. He pointed out that the reforestation of the northern counties to get back to their former financial status would benefit the entire state, in that it would enable these counties to have a higher value to their lands and thus more taxes could be collected. This would help the counties which were now helping to maintain the poorer counties of the state.

Farming on lands formerly occupied by forests is almost impossible, Prof. Dubar stated as the soil is not suited to farming purposes. Forest fires, even though they burned only useless timber, were bad for the land and took a certain amount of the value from the soil, he said, and also mentioned that Michigan fire fighters were the most capable of those in any state.

MANY ARE DRAWN AND EVERYONE IS CHOSEN

"Good morning, Madam. Won't you draw an envelope, please? Maybe you will be lucky," says the agent. "A lucky number entitles you to a picture enlargement free, for just the cost of material." The prospect then draws an envelope and "wins."

"Ah, you are lucky, aren't you?" continues the agent, "and won't that picture of your baby enlarge beautifully? Please give it to me and I will have our studio get to work immediately."

When the agent returned several days later, with the proof of the enlargement, he pointedly demands $10.98 additional for a frame. He matter of a frame had not even been mentioned previously, but an examination of the contract, which the housewife hurriedly signed, makes her liable to buy one.

This is a typical example of how the public is "framed" by the picture enlargement scheme. If one refuses to buy the frame, worth about $1.00, at the price of $10.98, the agent often keeps the baby picture as well as the promised enlargement.

The proper precautions are simple, but necessary. They are—

CARDS FOR HUNTERS

A Bird Hunter's Tally Card has been prepared by the Conservation Department on which hunters can report the counties hunted in; the abundance of the birds; the number of hours hunted on each date; and the number of partridge, prairie chicken or pheasants bagged on each day of the open season. The card also calls for the kind and numbers of dogs used in hunting.

The Department needs more detailed information as to upland game bird conditions in all parts of the state.

Look for the Name MAZDA on Every Lamp Bulb You Buy!

The trade-mark Mazda on an incandescent lamp is more than a name—it is a mark of research service. It signifies that behind the lamp are years of painstaking effort by the great organizations of the lamp manufacturers, to obtain the most light for the least current. There are cheaper imported lamps—but illumination with these is more expensive because they consume more current for the same amount of light.

The trade-mark Mazda is your assurance that the lamp bulb is a product of the latest and best methods of incandescent lamp making. When better materials and newer manufacturing processes are discovered or developed, they will be used. The Mazda standard of quality is constantly maintained, and a trained research staff is endlessly searching for ways to improve lamp efficiency.

The Detroit Edison Company carries Mazda lamps only—available in fourteen types, ample for all ordinary services. Most sizes and styles are renewed without charge at any Detroit Edison office.
