"BLACKBIRDS." COLORED

The management of the Wilson Theatre, Detroit, announces for the two weeks beginning Sunday, November 3, the musical smash hit of the late Broadway season, Lew Leslie's "Blackbirds," which completed a 15 months' continuous run at the Eltinge Theatre, previous to an all summer engagement at the Moulin Rouge, Paris, France.

"Blackbirds" is wholly unlike the usual colored musical presentation that has heretofore been offered. It is essentially a revue and not a musical comedy. It carries no start but is a succession of song hits, choral numbers, interspersed with a sufficient number of comedy skits, and boasts of a coterie of fast stepping dancers, both solo and ensemble, that has placed this organization unquestionably in the lead in this particular style of stage offering.

As one of America's, eminent critics expressed it, "Lew Leslie's 'Blackbirds' as a performance contains every essential that will make an audience go home happy and satisfied that it has spent an evening in the theatre to good advantage."

The fact that this peppy organization of fast stepping comedians, singers and dancers, kept Broadway in a good humor for almost two years proves its novelty and its worth; and directly after its local engagement "Blackbirds" goes direct to Chicago, where it is expected to repeat its New York success, in length of engagement.

Adelaide Hall still heads the cast of fun-makers which includes Aida Ward, Tim Moore, Blue McAllister, Manton Moreland, Johnny Hudgins, Snakey Hips, the Berry Brothers and others, together with the Cecil Mack Choir, the Plantation Orchestra and the Creole Beauty Chorus.

It is a rare witness who testifies satisfactorily to plaintiff and defendant, but some people try it.
