Ounks In Fear
My debts are large, my failures great, my shame secret and heavy; yet when I come to ask for my good, I quake in fear lest my prayer be granted.—Tagore.

Such minute balance is required in the building of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes that the manufacturers are required to mark on the casing the point where the tire valve should be placed, so that when the cap and valve are added, the wheel will exactly balance.

The Right Lamp in the Right Socket

Fourteen types of electric lamp bulbs are carried in stock by The Detroit Edison Company—in ample variety to fit almost any need. Standard inside-frosted lamps are available in five sizes: 15 watts, 25, 40, 60, and 100. In addition to these, the Company supplies a 25-watt tubular lamp (for use in show cases), clear lamps in five sizes (150 watts, 200, 300, and 1000), and white-bowl lamps (sizes 150 watts, 200 and 300).

The useful life of the modern, high-efficiency electric lamp is approximately 1,000 hours of illumination. After this period the glass bulb rapidly becomes blackened, and the lamp should be replaced. Blackened and burnt-out lamps (in the ordinary sizes) are exchanged for new lamps without charge at any Detroit Edison office.
