FOOTBALL BANQUET

Amid much laughter and jesting a fine dinner was soon over and a very pleasant program was started. Football banquets are an annual occurrence at Farmington and each one is thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Crawford as toastmaster for the affair who, in turn, called on McCulley to make a short talk on Athletics. Each senior fellow who was on the squad was asked to give a brief speech. These fellows were: Marvin Turner, Roy Young, George Grimme, Richard Fox, and Don Walters. Following these Edward Measell, next year's captain spoke.

The main speaker for the evening was E. A. Byrum, Boy's Work Secretary of Y. M. C. A. of Michigan. His talk was intensely interesting and his illustrations vivid in some cases humorous. He stressed the point of service, that is one's usefulness for his community, school, and personal friends. He closed by stating that the seniors had only six more months to live for their school and it was his suggestion that they make the best of this time for others.

Michigan residents were called upon by Governor Fred W. Green to support the nation-wide sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals in the following proclamation, issued today:

"It is most fitting that all citizens of Michigan should at this season of the year give thought to those of our number who are the misfortune to be afflicted with tuberculosis, and that we should accept the opportunity afforded through the sale of Christmas seals to support the organized campaign against this dreaded disease."

Bombing For Booths

Since the deposition of General Bramwell Booth from head of the Salvation Army just before his death, the Booth family has fared illy. Catherine Booth has been relieved from editorship of the periodical, "Deliverer"; Col. Bernard Booth has been removed as supervisor of Young Peoples Work; Col. Mary Booth has been recalled from work in Germany; Maj. Olive Booth has no booth; Capt. Dora Booth has been removed from field training of women; Capt. Wycliffe Booth is not permitted to speak. Of all the Booth family Evangeline alone remains undisturbed in her American post. Revenues have fallen off a half million since the 300ths have been demoted.—Exchange.
