'SHERIFF' GOES ON TRIAL FOR 'GROSS NEGLIGENCE IN DUTY'

Three Judges Required To Settle Questions Of Law; Jury Is Drawn

Accused of gross neglect of duty and other misdeeds, too numerous to mention, Sheriff N. H. Power of the Farmington Exchange Club went on trial Wednesday noon, his recall being demanded by Wells D. Butterfield.

Dr. H. A. Lesson, defense counsel, announced his client ready for trial. President Spencer Heeney appointed the following: J. J. Schulte, judge; Hyman Levinson, prosecuting attorney; jury; Dr. Z. R. Aschenbrenner, Leo Gildemeister, Harrison Johnson, John Clark, John Fitzpatrick and Olin Russell.

Defense moved for a change of venue, which was granted and Paul A. Paré was named judge. The prosecution contended that questions in a case of such importance could hardly be decided by any one human mind, and two additional judges were named. Judge Schulte to remain, and Howard Warner as "layman judge."

Drawing of the jury occupied all the time available, and the case was continued for three weeks. The hearing was punctuated and almost blew up due to verbal clashes between the prosecution and the defendant, one insisting that the prisoner allow his counsel to speak for him, and the other declaring that with so much at stake he could hardly be silent.

Remarks from the jury concluded the hearing.

Two Farmington Men Debate The Weather

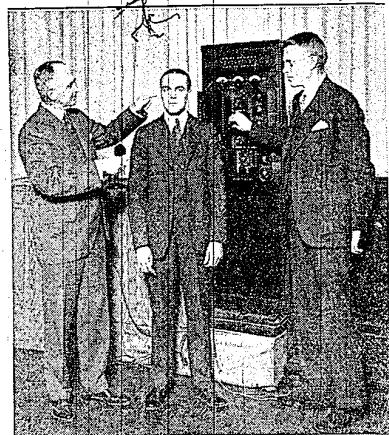

A debate that may last a long while and have far-reaching consequences apparently has been started between Charles H. Ely and Nathan H. Power of Farmington. Mr. Power, a few weeks ago, noted weather reports from all over the country and declared that Michigan was not so bad in comparison.

Now Mr. Ely sends to the Enterprise from Florida an advertisement of the Florida Power and Light Co. Among the many other advantages described, Mr. Ely marked especially one sentence, "There is neither extreme heat nor cold in Florida."

Mr. Power's turn for rebuttal.

Grace Demonstrates "Hearing Without Sound"

In the picture above, Seyring L. Grace, once a resident of Farmington, is demonstrating "hearing without sound." The sound is being transmitted with high voltage electricity through the wire held by Grace, and then through his extended arm directly to the brain of the man in the center. This was performed by Mr. Grace at Ann Arbor last Friday at the Fourth Michigan Engineering conference.

DEPUTY SHERIFFES ARE ON COUNTY DUTY ONLY

Deputy Sheriff William Tamm has asked the Enterprise to correct an apparent misunderstanding as to himself and Deputy Charles Ramsay. Many people appear to believe that they are State police, and engaged in State work.

Deputies Tamm and Ramsay are on County duty. They may be reached by telephoning the booth, Farmington No. 7.

ASR CHANGE OF NAME

"Gill road" will in the future probably be known as "Quaker road." A petition was received Monday evening by the Farmington City Commission from Farmington Woman's Club, asking the change. The Commission passed a motion to the effect that if no objections appeared in 30 days, the change would go into effect.

Arthur Lamb Reports

On State Convention

A complete and interesting report on the State convention of Michigan Exchange Clubs was read before the Farmington Exchange Club Wednesday noon by Arthur Lamb. Mr. Lamb supplemented the report with his own impressions of the convention. The report was very well received by the Club.

Carl Hoge will charge of the program next week and it is understood that something exceptional in the line of entertainment is to be presented. Howard Warner is to present the program the following Wednesday.
