GIRL DRIVER HITS GAS STATION SIGN ON GRAND RIVER

Damage Of $40 Done When Car Knocks Down Marker; Had No License

A girl driver of an automobile caused damage amounting to more than $40 to a gasoline station sign, and wrecked the front portion of her car Sunday night in Farmington.

The girl, Ruth Harris, 17, 14119 Pinehurst avenue, Detroit, was driving east when the machine crashed into a large sign at the gas station of Earl Vivier, Grand River at Grove street. The sign, which stood between the curb and the sidewalk and was supported by heavy piping, was knocked to the ground.

Miss Harris had no driver's license. She was accompanied by two girls and two boys about her age. It was indicated that sentence would be suspended if the damage was paid for.
