ERWIN FAMILY HOLDS A REUNION AT WIXOM

Descendants of the late Edward and Susan Erwin met at the Community Hall at Wixom, on Saturday, April 12. The Erwin homestead is located on the Town Line between Walled Lake and Wixom, where Edward and Susan Erwin settled early in their married life.

Seven of their family of seven children were born near Farmington. The other five in the home where the family lived until a short time before the father's death.

The late George Erwin then occupied the home until his death in 1924. One other son, John Erwin, died in 1901 at the age of 34 years.

The five surviving children, Frank Erwin of Wixom, Mrs. Emma Dougherty of White Plains, N. Y., Mrs. Alice Bennett of Pontiac, James Erwin of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Susan Goddville of East Lansing were present at the reunion on Saturday.

Mrs. Zelia Erwin, widow of George Erwin of Wixom, Mrs. Gertrude Erwin of Highland Park, widow of John Erwin and Mrs. James Erwin of Denver, were other members of the second generation present.

Ernest Hadden acted as master of ceremonies following the dinner and all present responded with interesting reminiscence in connection with the old homestead. Many interesting pictures, recalling early days, were shown in the photograph gallery, among which was a splendid photograph of the old Presbyterian Church of Commerce, sent by Ezra Kennedy of Rutherford, N. J.

Why should mother spend hours over the hot stove . . . when we have bakery goods which taste just like hers?

Bread . . . soft, delicious, always light . . . Cakes . . . richly frosted, light, many with nuts in the cake or icing . . . Rolls, coffee cake, pastries, pies of all sorts . . . all baked to a king's taste!

Come early each day while selections are largest.

Milk As A Health Builder

Boys and girls at school play hard and their studies take a constant toll on their mental and physical energy.

These growing children need a constant building up of this vitality, and no single food has the building qualities of Milk.

Every child should drink a quart of pure Milk every day. Mothers who seek to economize on table supplies should not do it at the expense of their children's health. Nothing else that you can buy for the same money can possibly duplicate the food value of Milk.

Don't Delay Starting Your Account

WE HAVE always noticed in a man who begins to save, that he also begins to strive to earn more, so that he may increase his savings.

MANY OF the most substantial business men of this community began as young men with savings accounts.

They learned how to build.

They are now provided for.

WE HOPE that you will not delay calling and starting your savings account.
