SPEEDING UP MAN

Naturally man is not a very fast animal.

The Finlander Nurmi holds the record for speed. About five years ago he ran a mile at a speed which averaged about fourteen and a half miles an hour.

A rabbit if he is chased by 41 hounds, can run from 35 to 41 miles an hour.

A pigeon has traveled at an average speed of 70 miles an hour for over four hours. These facts tell that we waste our ammunition on during the hunting season.

The swallow is a frail bird that can fly up to 125 miles an hour.

Oleo vs. Profit

Every pound of oleo consumed kills the market for about 9 quarts of milk. How can the dairy business remain prosperous if dairy farmers help the market for their product?

Milk is the most economical food. The farmer should use it constantly. He buys it from himself at wholesale instead of paying retail prices for substitutes.

It is claimed that the farmer buys one-third of all the oleo produced. In so doing he helps create a surplus of butter and loses more money by low butter prices than he gains in buying cheaper oleo.

What do you think of the argument offered by the farmer who buys oleo? He kicks about the low price for milk and butter, no money in the business, etc.; yet he says butter prices are too high and buys oleo to save money. In other words, too low to sell, but too high to buy. Not logical is it?

Big Kernels In Small Shells

IN ADDITION to the advertisements of the stores, of the grocery and hardware stores, of the millinery, clothing and shoe stores, there is another kind of advertising that is being read more and more by readers of this newspaper. That kind of advertising is the Want Ad Columns.

A man or woman wants a job. They read the "Help Wanted" columns and probably insert an advertisement of their own under "Positions Wanted." Employer and job seeker soon get together to the benefit of both. A man may want an automobile—possibly he cannot afford a new car, so he looks in the Want Ad columns and finds just the car at the price he can afford to pay. Some one has lost a pocketbook, valuable papers or even a pet dog. The "Lost and Found" columns soon bring loser and finder together.

In the Want Ad Columns any one can readily find what he seeks quickly—business news, machinery and tools, household goods, horses, dogs, cats, canaries, etc. They enable you to locate what you are looking for in short order. So in reading advertising do not overlook the Want Ad columns—the individual advertisements do not take up much room, but like the meaty nut they may contain a big kernel in a small shell—just for you.

Read the advertisements for your own good—Want Ad columns as well as display advertisements
