AWARDS FOR 1929 MADE TO MICHIGAN BELL COMPANY EMPLOYEES FOR OUTSTANDING SERVICE

THREE SAVE LIVES, FOURTH MAKES A VALIANT ATTEMPT

Pontiac, Mt. Clemens and Detroit Men Receive Medals. Commendations Given Battle Creek, Benton Harbor and Lansing Workers

Outstanding acts of service in moments of extreme emergency, that called for unusual initiative, quick action and the application of first aid measures, have brought recognition to four Michigan Bell Telephone company employees in the form of the bronze Theodore N. Vail Medal for 1929, according to Burch Forester, president of the company. The announcement followed action by the Michigan Theodore N. Vail committee of award which considered the cases.

Two telephone employees rescued persons from drowning, a third made a heroic attempt under similar conditions, and the fourth dragged an unconscious man from a carbon monoxide gas-filled garage and helped restore consciousness. These acts of life-saving were performed by James L. Barrett and George Adams, Detroit; Carl Shoemaker, Pontiac, and Louis J. Lozaun, Mt. Clemens.

Honor Telephone Leader
The awards were made under the plan of the Theodore N. Vail Memorial Fund, created a decade ago, in memory of a man who played a leading part in the development of universal telephone service, and to perpetuate the ideals and traditions of public service he inculcated into the telephone business.

Since the establishment of the fund, 43 such awards have been made to Michigan telephone men and women, 29 of them employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone company and 14 employed by connecting telephone companies.

given annually to meritorious acts performed by telephone men and women, and the bronze Vail medal is awarded in outstanding cases. Those receiving the bronze medal award also are considered for the national gold and silver medal with cash awards. In past years, two Michigan people have been awarded the silver medal.

First Aid Saves Lives

While performing his duties, last December 27, Mr. Barrett, line inspector at Detroit, found a man, unconscious from carbon-monoxide gas, in a closed garage. Breaking into the garage, he dragged the man to safety, summoned a physician and applied artificial respiration. With the aid of a police rescue squad pulmotor and inhalator, the man was revived, and recovered.

On July 14, last, George Adams, Detroit splicee, pulled a man from Baldwin Lake, near Greenville, Mich., at considerable danger to himself, and applied artificial respiration nearly two hours in an effort to restore life. The man succumbed to heart failure, however. Adams was cited for courage and prolonged effort in an endeavor to save a life.

Carl Shoemaker, Pontiac line foreman, rescued a small boy from the swollen waters of the Clio river, March 25, 1929. He applied artificial respiration and restored breathing, and the boy recovered.

Others Commended
Louis J. Lozaun, Mt. Clemens line-man, on Memorial day, 1929, rescued a man who had been caught in the strong undercurrent of the Clio river. Lozaun applied first aid and restored consciousness. He was the only person in the crowd that witnessed the near tragedy who had a knowledge of artificial respiration.

These four telephone men are holders of American Red Cross first-aid certificates, awarded jointly by the American Red Cross and the Michigan Bell Telephone company upon completion of first-aid training classes conducted by the Michigan Bell company. The first aid knowledge thus required by telephone men has been used to good effect in many emergency cases the last several years.

The Michigan committee on the Vail medal award also awarded letters of commendation to Lewis Schroeder, Battle Creek, for calling attention to a fire and helping rescue a man from a burning room; Leo Babcock, Lansing, for finding and removing a large casting from a railroad right-of-way; and Ziba Winget, Benton Harbor, for pulling to safety a boy who had broken through river ice.

The diving suit is not so new as one might think. A patent was granted to John Stapleton on March 17, 1863, for "a new engine so by him contrived as to permit a person enclosed in it to walk under water and to a new invented way to force air into any depth of water to supply the person in the said engine therewith and for containing a lamp burning under water; also a way to deaerate and purify the air so as to make the same serviceable for respiration."
