He Was Such A Nice Man, Often Disastrous

When asked why they invested in some dubious stock promotion, or illegitimate scheme, the victims often reply as follows:

"We did not know much about the proposition, but Mr. Blank was such a nice man we felt that what he said must be true."

While engaging sales personalities are an important factor in the success of any project, they cannot be substituted for the fundamental facts which make an investment fraudulent or legitimate, safe or unsafe, sound or unsound.

It has been said, too, that many doubtful propositions are obliged to hire salesmen with unusually attractive personal qualities in order to "land" the individual victim on the dotted line.

A good personality will not necessarily offer a good investment, any more than a poor personality may be expected to offer an unpromising opportunity. The elements of sound investment are entirely independent of the person who sells them.

When the smooth salesman, so often described as "such a nice man" comes to see you, thank him for his call but tell him it will be necessary for you to obtain the facts first.

Convincing words from an attractive stranger should be no excuse for jeopardizing your life savings—without first obtaining the facts.

Brings $70,000 Rent

NEW YORK—What is said to be the highest rental in the world will be asked for the 16 stores to occupy the first floor of the new 58-story skyscraper now being constructed at Forty-second Street and Fifth Avenue by Walter J. Salmon. With the completion of the building next December, the average cost for each front foot of space on Fifth Avenue will be $3800, or $70,000 a year for a store 19 by 41 feet.

Orchestra Thrills Europe
VIENNA—Adhering to the accepted definition of the term, it is not strictly "news" when Old World musicians triumph in America, but when a New World orchestra "brings down the house" in Europe, as the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra has done here—following a similar success in Milan, Italy—it is worth recording. Among the distinguished company present for the sensational performance here were Princess Helene of Rumania (mother of King Michael) and Princess Irene of Greece who came to Vienna especially for the event.
