Jean Storms, vice-president.
Hedwig Schoen, secretary.
Alvin Nicholson, treasurer.

PERSONALS

Mr. Shadley had an operation on his foot, due to recent injury.
Crystal Van Marter is absent from school because of illness.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors have been having a sale of magazines for the past week. They have had two sides, the Red Pirates and the Black Pirates. The losing side has to "treat" the winners.

All the Seniors, boys and girls, were busy around the town gathering papers. They will appreciate any contributions made to the class. Anyone who has papers or magazines they wish to dispose of may notify any senior and they will be taken at once.
Roderick Howarth has full charge of the collections of papers.

BEGIN WORK ON NEW GRIDIRON SATURDAY

The new high school gridiron, which is located down in the back of the school, will be laid out next Saturday under the direction of Mr. Shadley and Mr. Burns.

A new score board is coming, donated by the Farmington Lumber and Coal Co. New goal posts are being considered. It was agreed upon that they should be of pipe so they will last longer. These pipes will be painted blue and white.

About ten fellows are expected to turn out Saturday morning to get the field in shape for the first home game which is with Belleville, Friday, October 10th.

THIS WEEK TWO YEARS AGO
Ola Whitney takes honors of naming the school paper. The name was one out of 24 submitted.

The eighth grade room was moved to the high school on Monday.

The new lockers have arrived and are being set up. Keys may be obtained from Mr. Baker.

The enrollment of 157 students in Farmington High School this year is the largest in the history of the school. It consists of 25 Freshman girls, 20 Freshman boys, 22 Sophomore girls, 23 Sophomore boys, 20 Junior girls, 15 Junior boys, 14 Senior girls and 18 Senior boys.

Football scrimmage was held Thursday night which placed Joe Gravin on the casualty list. Lapham intending to kick, mis took Gravin's head for the ball. The result was that Joe exhibited a flashy, swollen, black eye the next morning.

Upon entering the locker rooms one can not hear himself think for groans. As the cripple limps in from scrimmage, bottles of iodine and horse liniment, rubbing salve, ankle braces, bandages, tape and first-aid kits begin to appear. Opening the door one can hear:

"Yow, you must be crazy kicking me in the sore knee, why its as big as a pumpkin now."
"Who took my towel again?"
"Don't take all that iodine!"
"Where is the tape, you had it last!"

"He should have gone around the right end on that play," etc. Among the newcomers that are outstanding are, Howarth, Sperkowski and Hamilton. These fellows have been working hard and it looks as though their efforts might be rewarded.

A football game, the Faculty-Aulmi vs. High School, is scheduled Friday afternoon. The public is invited.

SENIOR PARTY SUCCESS

Approximately 85 entered the gym for the Seniors' party Friday night. The party started promptly at 8:30 o'clock and off came coats and collars and in four hours the Seniors had made $20.

Cocoa and cake were served for refreshments.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors opened the candy stand last Tuesday. Candy is sold at noon and after school. The sale has been very good so far.

The Seniors are to have their first bake sale next Saturday, September 20, at the Lee Hardware.

The Student Council will hold their meetings every Wednesday from 10 to 10:30 in Miss Percy's room.

The sale of Activities tickets started last week, but they are selling very slow. The price is 75c a semester and it would be appreciated very much if the parents would urge the pupils to buy tickets.

A special rate is offered to the parents and people of Farmington this year. They can buy a season ticket for football for $1, whereas if they paid 35c to see every game it would cost considerably more.

WANTED

Another barn for Seniors to store papers in. $1500, so the Seniors can go to Washington.

Last week the band gave two concerts, the first being on Tuesday when they played at the flower show; the second on the following Thursday when they entertained the F. T. A. at the faculty welcoming party.

JOKES

Irene T: Papa, what is an es-cutcheon?

Francis D: Why.

Irene T: This story says there was a blot on his escutcheon.

Francis D: Oh, yes! An escutcheon is a light-colored vest. He had probably been carrying a fountain pen.

At a recent election the candidate was "heckled" by the local butcher. At last he grew tired of it, and hinted that the man was wasting time by asking silly questions.

Bruce K: (The butcher, enraged, retored). If I had you in my sausage-machine I'd make mince-meat of you.

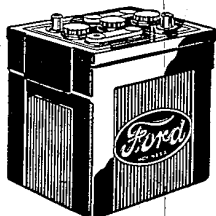

William W: (The candidate turned and asked gently): Is thy servant a dog that thou shouldst do this thing?

Virginia H: Will I get anything I peep for, mama?

Alice G. (Her mother): Everything that's good for you.

Virginia: Oh, what's the use, then; I get that anyway.

Within A Couple Of Hours

"I saw your advertisement in last week's Enterprise, "Don't Keep What You Don't Want!", a well-known resident of Farmington* told the Enterprise the other day, "And I thought you might like to hear of experience I have had with your Want Ads. I have put an ad in the paper to sell things, and Friday morning, before I have had time to look at the paper myself and see the ad, people have come to buy. I've had the money in my hand within an hour or two after getting the paper from the post-office."

The Enterprise is indeed pleased to learn of such results achieved through its Want Ad columns, but they are not at all uncommon. Hundreds of readers know by actual trial that "a Want Ad will do it." If you haven't made use of them before, you'll be pleasantly surprised at the quick, desirable results obtained.

Now is a particularly good time to raise a little extra money through sale of something you no longer need. Many people are seeking to save money on things they have to buy, by careful searching through Want Ads. It's a good time for the buyer and the seller—in the Want Ad columns.
