MISS H. GRAVLIN IS MARRIED AT HOME CEREMONY

Farmington Girl Is Bride Of Bay Port Man; To Live In Bay Port

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. J. C. Gravin, 33515 State street, Farmington, when her daughter, Harriet, was united in marriage to Sanburn Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of Bay Port, Thursday evening, October 23 at 8:00 o'clock.

The bride wore a lovely gown of ivory moire with slippers to match and a head band of pearls and orange blossoms, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of yellow roses and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Irene Wardell of Lansing, sister of the bride, was her attendant. Her gown was of rose beige chiffon and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and chrysanthemums. Her husband, Howard Wardell, acted as best man. The bride was given away by her brother, Charles Gravin.

Rev. E. F. Dunlavy of the M. E. church of Detroit officiated at the service, performed before a beautiful altar of palms and ferns.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of green flat crepe with a corsage bouquet of red roses. Fifty-four relatives and friends from Lansing, Bay Port and Detroit attended the wedding and the young couple received many beautiful gifts.

A wedding dinner was served in the two dining rooms, which were decorated with ferns. The table flowers were white baby chrysanthemums and ferns.

The young couple left for Lansing and other parts of the State, before returning to their home in Bay Port.

A North Carolina man traded his pants to bootlegger for some liquor. So dry that he pant-ed for a drink.

Your Cookie Jar

Not only do the children appreciate the well filled cookie jars, but mothers and big sisters like cookies to serve with afternoon tea or after bridge refreshments. And dads and big brothers just naturally drift to the cookie jar for a snack to munch on while reading the sporting pages, listening to the radio or before going to bed. Keep your cookie-jar well-filled without constant bakings, by having a supply of our fine cookies always on hand. Every popular kind.
