Garrick Gaieties' To Be Shown At Wilson

The new, brisk, Fall edition of "Garrick Gaieties," the Theatre Guild's smart, swift, musical revue, begins a week's engagement at the Wilson Theatre, Detroit, on Monday, November 17. The present edition of "Garrick Gaieties" is made up of the best tunes, sketches, and dance routines from all three "Gaieties" editions, as well as new material, which went into the production just before the show left New York for its road tour.

Albert Carroll and Ruth Tester are principal players. Mr. Carroll will do his famous imitations of Ethel Barrymore, Mrs. Fiske, John Barrymore, Lynn Fontanne and others. Miss Tester will be heard in the song hit "Sing Something Simple." Others in the cast are Philip Loeb, Sterling Holloway, Doris Vinton, Ruth Chorpennin and many others, including a youthful chorus of extraordinary dancers.

Detroit has never seen a show just like "Gaieties" before. It is an intimate revue, nothing large or pretentious about it, no living curtains, adagio dancers, or overdoses of tenors or sopranos. Instead, it offers youth and personality. Really amusing sketches making fun of fads and follies of the day, including some pokes at Detroit, too. The dance routines are intricate and well-carried out by one of the cutest and youngest choruses in New York. The songs are tuneful and the words are clever and you can hear every one of them. Seats are now on sale at the box office for the entire engagement. All orders are now being received and filled in order of their receipt. The box office is giving special attention to out-of-town orders.

Word has just been received from New York that Doa Lockbiller of 211 Highland avenue, Highland Park, Detroit, is the winner of the one hundred dollar prize by the N. Y. Theatre Guild for a sketch making fun of Detroit's fads and follies. This sketch will be included in the new Fall edition of "Garrick Gaieties" the Guild's musical revue which opens an engagement at the Wilson Theatre November 17. Mr. Lockbiller calls his sketch "The Old Gray Mayors" and the Detroiters will be interested to know that in it a vast amount of fun is poked at the mayoralty situation election times. "Garrick Gaieties" is a topical revue and Seeley

Mr. Lockbiller's sketch will give it that local touch so necessary in the success of a smart musical revue of this type. Mr. Lockbiller is a member of the city staff of the Detroit News.

Another Election

PROSPERITY is up for election, running to overthrow DEPRESSION. It's for the people to decide which will be chosen. Every man and every woman is privileged to ballot—every day.

DEPRESSION has no rightful place with a hundred and twenty million people, exchanging goods and services—capable—accustomed and willing to work—more highly skilled than other peoples—leaders in efficiency and progressiveness—backed by the vast natural resources of the United States. When we make it possible for the man who works to have a job we make it possible for him to buy food for his family and so help all business, including that of the farmer.

The rest of the world is of small importance compared with that free market of 120,000,00 people—homogeneous—of like tastes, habits and aspirations—living under the same laws—free of trade barriers. Foreign trade may be troubled by tariffs and revolutions, but at their peak our exports represented only five and a half billions of dollars of gross business in a year out of a total American income of ninety billions.

Stagnation of circulation is what's the matter with agriculture and with Business. Everyone can help to get that circulation moving again.

Government can't make Prosperity—alone. Bankers and other business leaders can't make Prosperity—alone. It's the people, united in opinion and purpose and courage, who determine Prosperity. They can elect it—none other.

Ballots that will be validly counted for PROSPERITY are of many kinds. Some one of them every man and woman can cast. For example:

Help a deserving man or a woman to get a little paying work—or, better, a regular job.

Spend wisely and not too timidly, and anticipate scheduled expenditures so far as is practicable.

Turn the deaf ear to false, mischievous rumors and don't repeat them, if you do hear them.

Be willing to pay a fair price. Don't take advantage of the other man's necessity. Recognize that he has as good claim to a fair profit as you.

When a culture that fattens on the miseries of others shows up, help to make him unpopular.

Discourage calamity howlers. Keep business moving evenly, and remember that, to the average man, his job is his particular business. When possible, reassure him against his fear of losing it.

Save, but save wisely, not in fright. Invest for the profit that sound enterprise pays and for the added profit that will come after the hysteria of pessimism has passed. —Exchange.
