BOY SCOUT WORK IS 'GOOD INVESTMENT'

That the Boy Scout work is not only interesting to the boys and helpful to them, but is an excellent investment for the community, was the theme of a talk by Howard Glenn of Pontiac, at the Farmington Exchange Club meeting Wednesday noon.

Mr. Glenn declared that it costs $86 to investigate a juvenile delinquent, but that the Boy Scout organization costs only $9 a year per boy for maintenance. Others who spoke were Scout Executive Herbert Watson of the Oakland County Area Council, Scout Commissioner Floyd Woodlock of Clarencetown, and Scoutmaster Erskine Evans of Farmington. All were guests of Howard M. Warner.

Gloria Swanson In Comedy At Redford

Gloria Swanson recently completed the most pretentious picture of her career, "What a Widow!", a modern comedy. It has been booked for showing at the Redford Theatre, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday.

Directed by Allan Dwan, "What a Widow!" is the star's first comedy offering in several seasons. Yet it has not been designed to afford light entertainment with any attempt to please the eye. For the vague of modernity has been given free expression in both wardrobe and sets, with the result that the picture promises to gain recognition as one of the smartest pieces of screen fare yet presented. It has the added interest of a musical background, with the star singing three new songs.

N. J. Eisenlord and sons, Howard and Homer, returned home from their hunting trip to Grayling last Tuesday. Norman Lee has also returned.

Thanksgiving

When we gather around the festive table on Thanksgiving Day, we will find real satisfaction and happiness in giving thanks for the many blessings that have come.

It is well, too, to reflect that most things which we have to be thankful for are gained by effort and perseverance, in such helpful habits as that of saving. Let us help you have more things to be thankful for, through a savings account.
