SLAT'S DIARY

By ROSS PARQUHAN

Friday—well I thought I was a going to get a pretty good grade in compashun today but from the latest reports why I gess it aint a going to be so very hot. The teacher or told us to rite a compashun about a Barnickle and I rote all about those there Tue you got in yure throte which gets sore i sum times and then you have sore throte and get horse and meby have barnickle newmonia. but pa says I am rong. That woddent wery ma so very much but ma says so to.

Saturday—well ole Mr. Hix got hisself into a nice jam today. He got up enuff nerve to go to his boss for a serious talk. he sed I have ben wirking for this co. for forty 7 yrs. and I think sum thing shud ought to be done about it and the boss sed my goodness yes so this evning they told Mr. Hix that they had got a younger man for the job. commencing Munday.

Sunday—I diddent have no mun ey this morning for Sunday skool and so ma lent me a dime and then sum way I fergot to put in only a nickle. After I put a nap nickle in my pocket it was gone. I am sure ma got it but I dont want to acuse her of it for fear she did.

Munday—Ant Emny clames her bow promist to marry her. The judge sed he cud send him to jale but she sed she thot he ought to get the full benefit of the law and she was bound to marry him.

Tuesday—well pa got stung agen. He anserred a-ad witch sed for five $ they wood send him a suit of close he wooddent ware out. so he sent his measure and five $ and today he got a sute of Union close yella and green.

Wednesday—well pa sed he disided not to take his cold bath this a. m. but if I wanted to tell I cud have the laff onto him. I tirned out the gas under the hot water las nite before I went to bed & meby that had sum effect on him.

Thursday—The teacher sed sheed called up ma and told her about me getting suchy poor grade in rithmetick and I ast whut ma sed and the teacher sed she diddent say enny thing so she must of got holt of the rong number the way I figger it out.

A fertile soil with industry and easy transportation for men and things from place make a nation strong and great.—Bacon.
