There's health and happiness for children in a Michigan vacation

Have your boy or girl telephone home frequently from camp

MICHIGAN is unexcelled as a summer playground for children. Scores of summer camps dot the shores of Michigan's lakes, offering every out-of-door advantage for an enjoyable, health-building vacation.

While the children are in camp, have them telephone home at pre-arranged intervals. Occasional "telephone visits" will help prevent homesickness and will banish your worries.

Long distance rates are surprisingly low!
