WEST POINT MEETS DEARBORN TEAM AT PARK SUNDAY

Skrzycki Victorious at Navin Field on Firemen's Day Before 25,000 Fans

West Point Park baseball team will meet the Dearborn Cleaners at 3:30 o'clock Sunday on the Park diamond in its next game in the Triple A division of the Detroit Baseball federation.

Dearborn boasts some old time star players. Pitcher Green, who is slated to start Sunday, has won a number of games for the Cleaners this year. Schmidt, former Tiger catcher, is coach of the team. Last week, Dearborn scored five runs in the ninth inning to gain its victory over Gabel-Risdon, 8 to 4.

Skrzycki again proved too much for West Point last Sunday in one of the Firemen's Day features at Navin Field when it defeated the Parkers, 10 to 1, holding second place in the standings as a result. Skrzycki has won nine games and lost five. West Point is in third place with eight victories and seven defeats.

Carl Goers and Hartner pitched in Sunday's game, which was witnessed by 25,000 spectators. Goers yielded one run in the first, held the Bakers scoreless until the fifth, when he allowed five runs. Hartner was touched for eight hits and four runs in the last four innings.

The daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Charles Johnson has been ill.

The question is asked why people do not stay at home more? One reason may be that if they did, their creditors might come and present them with a bill.

Siamese Fighting Fish

Put Up Hot Contests
 Meet Mr. Wat Chant Aitir Soplter, two inches of forked and falling spinning, famed fighting fish of Siam. This ferocious though diminutive fish lay immersed in a bowl in the New York aquarium, the object of admiration of a huge crowd, according to a report in Time, the News-magazine.

In Siam, fish fighting occupies much the same place that cock fighting once did in the United States. In each of Bangkok ten halls there are several tables about which are grouped seats for spectators. When the audience is ready, two bowls, each containing a contestant, are placed on the table. A fight is guaranteed if they charge at one another and pump their noses on the intervening glass. The betting commissioner books bets, the limit being $4. The two fish are then dumped into one big bowl together. They charge furiously, first tripping off each other's ruby-red ventral fins. Next to go is the red top fin, while frequently they bite off chunks of flesh, leaving bloody wounds. A good fight will last for six hours. Unpedigreed ones are exhausted in 15 minutes. After a fish has lost a battle he is bred no more but spends his declining days in the hands of Mr. Trainer, fish constantly have their bodies mutilated as do United States fatigued trainers. Their advantage over the United States equivalents: they can regenerate broken parts.

Damage Done to Trees

When the Sap Freezes
 Sap in trees frequently freezes during the winter. The freezing point of water is decreased by the addition of substances in solution. Since sap contains various solutes its freezing point is considerably below 32 degrees and accordingly it does not freeze in moderate freezing temperatures. Trees are further protected by the fact that the moisture content is not so great near the surface in the winter as it is in the summer. But the sap freezes during extremely cold spells and sometimes much damage is done to the trees.

The United States forest service says that in the Canadian woods when the temperature is 40 to 50 degrees below zero the ruptures of tissues in trees caused by freezing can often be heard as a sort of sharp report. As a rule freezing that produces sufficient pressure to rupture the tissues results in vertical cracks running up and down the trunk.

In succeeding seasons of growth the tree attempts to heal over these cracks but ridges of protruding scar tissue remain as evidence of the ruptures. The wood of trees is frequently frozen, but generally no serious rupture results because the moisture is evenly distributed through the tissue.—Fathinder Magazine.

Two of a Kind

Thomas Hardy was once dining with Gen. Sir Redvers Buller of Boer memory, when the subject arose of social blunders. Buller described what he called a "double-barreled" one of his own, says Mrs. Florence Emily Hardy in "The Last Years of Thomas Hardy." He inquired of a lady next him at dinner who a certain gentleman was, "like a bipotamus," sitting opposite them. He was the lady's husband.

Buller was so depressed by the disaster that had befallen him that he could not get it off his mind. Hence at a dinner the next evening he sought the condolences of an elderly lady, to whom he related his misfortune. And remembered when he had told the story that his listener was the gentleman's mother!

Pretty Roofs in Norway

Perhaps the roof over one's head has something to do with his happiness and love in the home beneath it. The American shingles were appropriate for the pioneer, the English slates practical, the tiles of Latin countries cool and picturesque, but even better is the old straw thatch laid on sometimes to a depth of two feet. However, of homes in country places Norway has the loveliest roofs of all. Soot is used for a thatch here, and after a season or two the entire house-top is a meadow of grass and wild flowers, on which young goats may often be seen feeding, and where butterfles and honey-bees always hover.

Job Forbidden to Whistle

A job can sing his best if he he care to, but he must keep his whistle in his pocket. Whistling has never been permitted in the navy. This prohibition is not designed to repress one of man's elementary means of expressing joy, or boosting one's courage, but is forbidden because it might be confused with the bo's'n's pipe at a distance or below deck. In former days at sea sailors were added and much work accomplished by means of calls with the bo's'n's pipe, the boat-awain's badge of office.

Elementary

"My boy," said the business man to his son, "there are two things that are vitally necessary if you are to succeed in business."
 "What are they, dad?"
 "Honesty and sagacity."
 "What is honesty?"
 "Always no matter what happens, nor how adversely it may affect you, always keep your word once you have given it."
 "And sagacity?"
 "Never give it!"

Stahl And Associate

Market A New Product

Distribution of a product which is expected to be revolutionary in its success against an old problem and a boon to property-owners and tenants, is under way in this section by the Guarantee Waterproofing Company. The company has developed a product which, it is stated, entirely eliminates wet basements.

R. A. Stahl, who is well-known throughout this area as general manager of the Parkview Memorial Association, the memorial park at Farmington and Five Mile Roads, is actively interested in the company. His associate, G. L. Simpson, a chemist of Auburn heights, has developed the waterproofing material, which other chemists have tried to duplicate, it is said, but unsuccessfully.

Farmington is one of the first areas to be covered by the firm which is planning a gradual expansion and eventual coverage of all of this part of the country. The product has been proven in use for some years, but distribution has heretofore been on a limited scale.

Mrs. Isabelle Lueke, 21420 Parker avenue, is at the University of Michigan hospital where she will undergo an operation for removal of goiter.

Better Times Ahead for the Poultry Raiser

That's what R. W. Dunlap, Assistant Secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture says in his article appearing in the July issue of Poultry Tribune. His conclusion is based on these facts:

"There are less hens on the farm now than one year ago; less chicks hatched this year with a very noticeable shortage of early hatched pullets; 10% less eggs in storage than a year ago; and 42 per cent less dressed poultry in storage than there was a year ago."

With a substantial shortage of eggs and poultry in storage, and less hens and pullets on the farm, a shortage in the production of fresh eggs during the coming Fall and Winter months is self evident. This can mean but one thing—good prices for poultry and eggs this Fall, this Winter and next Spring. Better times for the poultry raiser are just around the corner.

With prices on poultry feeds the lowest ever known, we see no reason why you should not feed only the best feeds and get your pullets into production as soon as possible.
