

Navy Tests Submarine Rescue Chamber

A "submarine bell" designed to bring crews of disabled submarines to the surface without subjecting them to extreme variations in pressure has undergone successful tests on the Atlantic coast. Lowered to a submarine at the bottom, the rescue chamber is attached to one of the vessel's escape hatches, from which the men enter it and are raised to the surface. The chamber is in telephone communication with the surface at all times. The large picture shows the rescue chamber at the surface. In the circle are shown Lieut. Commander A. R. McCann and Lieut. J. M. Morgan inside the device, the former talking over the telephone with a ship on the surface.

Errors In Print May Prove To Be Humorous As Well As Tragic

(Grand Rapids Chronicle)

It is easy to err in print. As the Editor and Publisher remarked recently, slug-casting machines can stutter, make-ups can pick up the wrong line, proof-readers can miss the sense of an article in their anxiety to keep the words in line and a million other things can happen to jinx the poor newspaper man, who with the best intentions in the world may find himself saying something that gives rise to guffaws on the part of reader.

Errors of this sort go by the name of "press breaks" or simply "breaks." Now appears a hilarious volume by W. W. Scott, who has painstakingly gathered together hundreds of examples of what can happen when fate ordains that someone on the paper shall go slightly haywire. Crossing our fingers, tapping wood and stroking a rabbit's foot in vain hope that none of these ever happen on The Chronicle, we reprint some of the most amusing examples:

"With an effort Jane pulled herself together. She stopped crying and dried her ears."

"Miss Hazel Gregg's gladiolus garden has been attracting considerable attention of late. She spends many hours each day in the garden and her large collection of pants."

"Father of 9 children Places Blame on Wife."—Headline.

"2 convicts evade noose; Jury Hung."—Headline.

"Woman Kicked by Her Husband Said to Be Greatly Improved."—Headline.

"Jenkins, it is claimed, was driving at a high rate of speed and swerving from side to side as he approached the crossing he started directly towards it and crashed into Miss Miller's rear end which was sticking out into the road about a foot. Luckily she escaped injury and the damage can be easily remedied with a new coat of paint."

First Machine Of Its Kind In Farmington

A new electrically-operated pipe-threading machine the first of its kind in Farmington, was installed Wednesday by the Farmington Hardware Co. in its shop. The machine is another of the remarkable mechanical devices which accomplish things in a fraction of the time required by hand labor.

The machine, powered by a one-half horse-power motor, threads pipe of any size from one-eighth inch to 2 inches in diameter. It will also cut pipe in the same range of sizes.

Although not in the plumbing business, Farmington Hardware does an extensive trade in the pipe line carrying a larger stock of pipe, joints, etc., than most plumbers. Pipe is threaded to order for farmers and any others needing such material.

Although two inches is the maximum size pipe which can be threaded on the machine, an extension can be attached which will thread up to six inches in diameter.

"Among the first passengers were Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, who is now associated with an aviation corporation as Washington counsel. Mrs. Willebrandt carried a quart bottle of water taken from the Atlantic ocean, which she poured into the Pacific upon arrival in Kansas City."

"Richard Henry Howell was sentenced to two years in the McNeil Island federal penitentiary by Judge McNary yesterday on a plea of guilty to a charge of violating the Mann act by transporting Betty Moore from Sacramento, Cal. to Portland.

"Gordon Onstad and Albert Gillette, vocalists, and Abe Ber-cowitz, violinists, of the Oregonian's radio service, KGW, contributed the musical part of the program."

"Why rend your garments elsewhere when our up-to-date Laundry can do the work more effectively." Advt.

"Amateur Lion Taming Daily. afternoon and evening. A lady or gentleman will be selected from the audience to enter the Lion's Den. Special afternoon Feeding at 3 o'clock, Monday and Wednesday."—Advt.

"The plumbers have finished their part of the contract at the new garage, and there now remains only the plumbing to be done."

"One of the most pleasant occasions of the season was the coming out party of Miss Dorothea Wemm of Third Ave. South. The beautiful deb was attired in an imported creation of jade crepe trimmed with ermine lace around the punch bowl."

"The millinery department will be on the second floor and the proprietor states that their aim will be to always have the latest and last word in women's hats at appalling prices."

"There were two sharp reports, and Radley lunched and staggered."—Story.

WEST POINT PARK

A unique birthday party was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Fredericks on Glenwood Blvd., the guest of honor was Mrs. Warren Whipple of Manchester, N. H., it being her sixty-ninth birthday anniversary. Sharing honors was Leona Tamm of Farmington, granddaughter of Mrs. Fredericks.

Edwin Tamm and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Fredericks and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Mansfield spent an enjoyable vacation at Sylvan lake. Barbara and June Whipple were guests of their cousins, Edna and Leona Tamm.

Edna and Leona Tamm have recovered from the recent operation for tonsils.

The world's most kissed woman is believed to be Miss Mary Italin, a Washington (D.C.) school teacher who at the opening and close of school each day for the last 54 years, has been kissed by each one of her pupils, who along with their relatives and friends, have placed on the town's main street an ornamental urn in her honor.

OLD TIMERS PULL SURPRISE, BEATING NOVI TEAM, 4-2

All-Stars Play Good Baseball And Win Game From Novi, 4-2

A fractured wrist, a sprained arm, seven Charley Horses, and a dozen or so sore arms was the toll taken by Old Man Baseball from many of Farmington's former athletes in the baseball game between the Old-Time All-Stars and the Novi Independents Labor Day.

Theron Pauline is credited with the broken wrist. Stanley Smith with the sprained arm while the remainder of the casualties are sprinkled indiscriminately among the others who participated in the game.

The game itself was a good game of baseball. The All-Stars won the game, 4-2, behind the good pitching of Carl Goers and the hitting of Ed Pierce, who garnered for himself a pair of safe blows. John Lapham contributed a sparkling throw from the outfield that was relayed into the plate. Norm Lee threw out a runner at the plate after taking a fly ball in the outfield, while Ike Hobbins at first, Earl Wolfe and Vaughn Smith, chief of police at Plymouth, at second base, Russ Catherman at short and his brother Harley at third, all played good games. Charley Wolf from caught Goers.

If rugged individualism results in ragged individuals it may be time to reconsider our concept of individualism.—Glenn Frank.

Good News

Advertising is news—style news—bargain news—when, where and what-to-buy-news. It tells a story of new appliances, new materials, new conveniences, and how to use them. It tells of service of financial institutions and service organizations. It is helpful with suggestions. It is thus "good news."

Advertising, properly and accurately prepared, not only serves as a source of information, but enables you, as a member of the public, to fill your needs with the least possible effort. Because of its mutual importance to the public and to business, it must be kept believable.

Reputable advertisers must expend much time and effort to keep advertising truthful and worthy of your confidence and frequently refuse advertising which they believe may deceive or defraud readers. You can help by reporting instances where advertising has proved false, inaccurate or deceptive.
