And somehow, to the feverish brain of the troubled young husband, the Spanish fellow who came to the dance hall once or twice a week began to be the symbol of that peril. One evening, there occurred in that dance hall what seemed a miracle, although medically, and in the colder annals of science, it is known as "trauma."

In the midst of what was the routine performance of Ruth dancing around the floor in the arms of the young Spaniard. Christian, unable to bear any longer want seemed to marked the state of these force of the spine, returned to the state of the state of these of the spine in the state of the spine in the state of the spine. be of more serious moment than is usually the case in such an environment. They fell in love and immediately their solemn young eyes fastened upon the goal of marriage. Buth entertained no litusions about the ambitions or the potentialities of Christian. To her he was merely a darling boy who needed her. And Ruth needed him. On the laittal equipment of loving one another deeply, and shout one hundred and seventy-five dollars between them, they were married, and continued their joint work at Flower-hand until four months before Ruth was going to have her eithly and the statement of the marriage, these two flitted that the marriage, these two flitted that the marriage, there was amusent world not the statement of the marriage, these two flitted that the continuent their time, nest of an up-town flat and settled down to a happiness that was dreenlying and all-sufficient, except for one fly in a smooth olatiment. Christian, who loved his dancling wife with all the tenacious capacity of the frail, was branded in his make-up with a broad streak of Jealousy. Because-she was as defectable to him, it was inconceivable that she could be anything else to the hundreds who were fortunate to hold her in the dance. This tormenting quality within himself he managed to keep latent until there developed in the little home certain compilications of most serious poored.

Profit In Eggs!

The profit in eggs at this time is more than normally obtained. Depression has been so uppermost in the minds of many that they have failed to grasp opportunities which exist. The following forter than the profit of the same of the sa ing facts should be realized:

Poultry Feed is very low in price.
 Properly managed poultry flocks give 50% production in November.

Egg Prices vary from 35 to 40 cents.
A dollar today on the average buys as much as $1.40 in

Eggs are being produced on good feeds at 6 to 10 cents a dozen on properly managed farms. The profit over feed cost is 19 to 30 cents per dozen. And 30 cents today will buy as much as 42 cents in 1929. Therefore, we repeat our previous assertion, the profit from eggs is more than normal.

Our problem as feed merchants is to fully acquaint poultry raisers with these facts, which many of them have failed to appreciate.

Feeding the best feed, getting the most eggs and the best profit over feed cost is the proper procedure.

100 chickens during November, if properly managed, will lay 1500 eggs.

These eggs will be worth at least $45.00 in territories where the feed prices below prevail:

100 chickens during November will eat-

360 lb Delight Poultry Scratch ... @ $1.75 cwt. $6.30 240 lb Delight Egg Mash ... . @ 2.35 cwt. 5.28 Total November profit over feed costs per 100 chickens $33.42

Profit over feed cost per 1,000 birds ...... $334.20

We also carry Globe and Larro Poultry feeds at slightly
