Orange Ice-cream
Hungarian Goulash
(Prepared in an electric casserole) 1 pound each of Beef, Pork and Lamb
1 large Electric Casserole
1 large Electric Casserole
1 large Electric Casserole
Preheat the casserole 15 minutes on high heat.
Cut the beef in small pieces and fry with the onion in the covered casserole, adding a pinch of black pepper. Then the onion and beef are browned, add beef and lamb and cook for 15 minutes, still on high heat. Add the pork and lamb and brown for an additional 15 minutes on high heat.
Thicken with a cold-water with four tablespoons of milk. Cover tightly and serve to table. Cover tightly with boiling water and cook on high heat until steaming is noticed. Then remove from heat and cook until ready to serve. (Casserole can remain on heat for 15 minutes.)

Cook your principal dish in the electric casserole. When you come home, it is ready to serve—deliciously hot and appetizing. While you set the table and make coffee in the electric percolator, cook your vegetables for 20 minutes.

With a dinner prepared beforehand, your entire dinner is ready—and you've had the whole afternoon to yourself. Thousands of these electric casseroles are sold in Boston for—
