NOVI NEWS

An alarm was sent in Monday morning that the Gummiga house was on fire, but it was only sparks from the chimney seen by a passerby.

During the heavy fog of Saturday night Mr. Bogart of West Novi drove off the Grand River cement and required help to get out of the ditch.

Several from Novi attended the Baptismal services at Farmington Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kitchoff and daughters of Detroit called on Mrs. Korchow's father, M. D. McGregor, Sunday.

Miss Betty Flint is sick with the flu. Mrs. Terry and daughter Lena of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Seth Sexton of Breckinridge were callers at the home of Burton Munro Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Kohlheim of Pontiac spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Classen.

Nori School News

The entertainment given by Poluhni and Company last Wednesday was fairly well attended and enjoyed by all. Some clever magical tricks amazed everyone and the mental telepathy work was excellent. Many children who had never seen anything of the kind were delighted with the show.

A program in recognition of the birthday of Benjamin Franklin was given at the regular meeting of the Student Association on Franklin's accomplishments as a statesman, inventor, and citizen was nicely presented in papers prepared and read by the ninth grade English class.

The Student Association decided at the meeting Friday to present a play about the first of March in an effort to raise money to carry on some athletic activities next spring. The baseball team is in much need of equipment and plans are being made to construct a tennis court so that girls will have some sport in which to engage.

The formal mid-year examinations are being dispensed with this year in the High School because of the shortened year. However, thorough tests over certain units of the work have been given as those units were completed. Such tests have always included a comprehensive review over all the work covered, and obviously tests given just because it is the middle of the year are neither appropriate or necessary. All of the classes in mathematics are finishing certain phases of the work at present and the students can look forward to several busy hours sometime next week.

REAL FARM RELIEF NEEDED

(Exchange)

This country is waiting for someone to come forward with a plan for farm relief whose administration by governmental bureaucracy will not cost more than the farmer, whom it is supposed to benefit, will actually receive in cash. We have had many experiences of the former kind and they have always proved painful.

Nobody denies agriculture is in need of assistance, but it should come in such a manner that its value as a relief measure will not be destroyed by an equally increased cost of government. Many have already pointed out that there is a direct connection between the extensive growth of government bureaucracy in recent years and the farmer's economic life.

Helping the farmer will help the nation. This help should be so simple and direct that immediate relief assistance will be placed within his reach. Congress is now engaged in working out such a plan. It should have the sympathetic support of every citizen, so long as it does not entail outrageous cost of operation at the hands of those who have for years been using the farmer as a means for extracting money from Uncle Sam's pocketbook.

For the second year Michigan's trout hatcheries are carrying hundreds of thousands of early hatching trout eggs to insure large fish for planting next fall.

GIRL SURPRISES BY HER RECOVERY AFTER ACCIDENT

Injures At First Feared Fatal But Crash Victim Makes Rapid Gains

Fears for the recovery of fifteen-year old Fay Jennings, seriously injured in an accident at Northwestern Highway and Eight Mile Road last week, have been dispelled within the last few days, with the girl rapidly recuperating from her injuries. So remarkable has been her recovery that she has already been taken home from Redford Receiving Hospital, to which she was rushed after the accident.

Investigation is being made of the accident, which is reported to having been done by one car running through a stop-light and striking another. The girl suffered severe neck lacerations near the spinal cord, which it was feared might prove fatal. Stitches were taken in her neck almost from ear to ear.

The driver of the car in which she was riding was John Solitz, two years older than the girl. Both live on Oakland avenue, near Redford.

One car was travelling on Northwestern Highway and another on Eight Mile Road. The driver of the other car involved was S. D. Foster, Detroit.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

(Exchange)

The W. K. Kellogg food products company, of Battle Creek, believes in the value of newspaper advertising. Early in 1932 the company determined upon an aggressive merchandising campaign, which included the largest newspaper advertising appropriation in the company's history.

As a result of this intelligent planning, backed by a liberal use of printer's ink, the company saw their business increase and were able to keep their factories operating on a 24 hour a day schedule throughout the year, with employment at the highest peak ever recorded. Because of this foresighted policy Battle Creek's welfare problem has been much smaller than cities of similar size throughout the country.

One streak of silver lining to the depression cloud is seen in the fact that motorcycle production has fallen off about 50 per cent.
