Notables To Attend Ann Arbor Festival

Dr. Howard Hanson, composer, and R. L. Stokes, librettist, of the new American opera, "Merry Mount," accompanied by Mrs. Stokes, will be present at its world premiere concert form at the Saturday night concert of the Ann Arbor May Festival, which will take place on May 17, 18, 19 and 20. In addition many distinguished music editors, musical authorities and music followers from New York, Chicago, and other metropolitan centers, will be on hand for this important event.

The Festival will be characterized by many novel, colorful features, combined with brilliant musical values. Artists of high rank, choral works of great interest, and organizations the leadership of five eminent conductors, will be combined into six well balanced programs, and their united musical and artistic assets will be set for a musical feast of unsurpassed excellence.

Included in the list of soloists are: Nina Koshetz, effectual Russian operatic prima donna, whose career throughout the music capitals of Europe has been widely heralded; Grete Stueckgold, eminent Wagnerian prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera; and Leonora Corra, another leading Metropolitan soprano; Rose Bampton, rising contralto star of the Metropolitan; Frederick Jagel a leading tenor of the same institution; John Charles Thomas, triumphant baritone of Covent Garden and many European operas, and the late Chicago Civic Association; Chase Baromeo, bass, renowned at the La Scala, Buenos Aires, and Chicago operas; Helene, distinguished Russian violinist, who has lived through several careers, that of infant prodigy, boy-wonder, and mature artist; Guy Maier and Lee Pattison, the dual pianists, who have been pursued to "comeback" in a field which they dominated for so long a time; and Palmer Christian, distinguished American organist.

Appointments Memorial Day Committee For Legion

Four Legion members have been appointed as the Memorial Day committee for Groves-Walker Post by N. C. Lee, commander. They are: Past Commander Carl Goers, Past Commander Carl Hoyle, Ben N. C. Commander Lee Doyle, and Charles Elkins.
