Needlework in Education Mary, wife of William of Canage, being really fond of -needlework, did much to give the stamp of royal approval to the occupation. It was of course taken up by the 'ndides of the court and the daughters of noblemen as a matter of policy. But it really amounted to more than a pastime. It became a part of a young lady's education.

aham-Paige officials use the telephone chil former employees back to work

GRAHAM-PAIGE CALLS MEN TO WORK BY TELEPHONE

Graham-Paige Motors Corporation, "we call our people back to work by telephone. When they have no telephones, we must fall back on post eards. The telephone gets immediate action; the post cards mean a delay of at least a day." ****

Other things being equal, applicants or former employees within easy reach by tele-phone usually are called first when workers are needed.
