"BIG CAGE" AT GREAT LAKES, FRI. & SAT.

The screen's most thrilling picture, and the one fraught with greatest actual danger in its filming, opens an engagement at the Great Lakes Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

This hair-raising film drama is "The Big Cage," produced by Universal and featuring in its leading role the dare-devil, Clyde Beatty, the world's greatest trainer of wild animals. It is not in any sense a jungle picture, though it deals with jungle animals. Beatty is the only man who ever combined lions and tigers in an arena, and in the picture he enters a cage with 40 of these savage beasts, the deadliest enemies of the animal world. Excitement reaches a tremendous pitch when a terrific storm arises during a circus performance, and several of these wild beasts escape in the crowded tent.

Supporting Beatty in this spine-tling screenplay of circus life are Mickey Rooney, Wallace Ford, Vince Barnett, Andy Devine, Anita Page and Raymond Hatton. The picture was directed by Kurt Neumann.

The story was taken from the forthcoming book of the same name by Clyde Beatty himself and Edward Anthony, who co-authored "Bring 'Em Back Alive."

Don't Fail to see "The Big Cage." It will thrill you as no picture ever has before.

Pontiac Unemployed Offer Barter Service

Farmers who have surplus articles of produce may exchange them for labor, according to the plan of a group of first class mechanics who have banded together in Pontiac. This group, all of them unemployed, have offered their services in exchange for the necessities of life. Thus farmers who cannot afford to pay cash for labor can secure the labor in return for articles which they cannot sell. The unemployed group is known as the Citizens' Barter Association.
