Bubonic Infection
Bubonic infection spreads through fleas that infest rats, ground squirrels and similar creatures. Man can escape it by destroying the rats, fleas, and human victims, and burning or disinfecting contaminated furniture and clothing. Among the kind of population these disease attacks, however, these things are hard to do, and sometimes military control has to be resorted to.

No Baloney About This!

There may be a difference of opinion about the gold standard, but there's no question about this fact—FARMINGTON DAIRY was first by a long margin in fighting for these principles now approved by the Government:

1. Pasteurizing all milk.
 2. Sanitary bottling and bottle-washing.
 3. One fair price by all and to all, to make possible—
 - (a) fair wages to employees
 - (b) fair prices to farmers
 - (c) fair profit to those in business.
- Consider leadership and service to the community in choosing your milk supply.

Correction!

In a recent advertisement in The Enterprise, error was made in the prices of the remarkable FORD PERPETUAL ECONOMY PLAN, by which you can exchange your engine cylinder assembly at any time for a completely re-built factory unit for only $37.50 for the Ford and $40 for the Ford V-8. (Erroneously advertised before as $39.50 and $42.00)

Think of this wonderful advantage you have when you buy a FORD, and ONLY FORD offers such a plan. The motor is the heart of your car, and you can double the car's life by this FORD economy plan.

GIVE DAD AND MOTHER A TELEPHONE FOR CHRISTMAS

TELEPHONE service will provide more convenience and protection for Dad and Mother than almost anything else you can give them.

It will keep them in constant touch with you, and enable friends to reach them easily. It will permit them to do innumerable errands, and to shop on stormy days, without leaving the house. It will bring home and business within instant reach of each other.

But greater than all these things is the PRICELESS PROTECTION afforded by a telephone, should it become necessary for them to summon—instantly—doctor, firemen, police or other aid.

The Telephone Business Office will furnish complete information and take your order for installation locally or out-of-town, at any time you specify.
