Returns to Selling

Return of George K. Checketta to the automobile selling field will interest his friends in this community. Mr. Checketta is now engaged in sales work with George F. Coon, Inc., Farmington Chevrolet dealers. For some time after coming to Farmington, Mr. Checketta distributed Buick cars in this community.

Back of his present association with V. R. Blakeslee in Chevrolet work, Mr. Checketta has a long experience in various phases of automobile marketing and service.

PRODIGAL AUTO COMES BACK HOME AFTER WANDERING

A "prodigal" returned to Farmington Wednesday evening, in the shape of a Ford Tudor sedan owned by Hyman Levinson. Recovery of the car was accomplished by arrest of three Detroit youths, two 16 and one 15 years old, who admitted stealing the machine.

A Detroit apartment-house janitor's suspicions, conveyed to the police, led to the capture. In order to make the boys halt, detectives were forced to fire five shots at two of the boys who came to get the car where they had hidden it, in a vacant garage. The youths had put on the machine a set of license plates they had stolen from a Buick car. They had also removed accessories to make identification difficult, and burned business papers which were in the car. Other personal property was recovered.

According to the boy's claim, more than one set of thieves had had the car. It was once found by the police, and lost again. On Monday of last week, the morning after it was stolen, the police found it on a street a few blocks away. Before the tow-car arrived to pick it up, however, it was gone again, and did not re-appear for a week. The three boys assert they had left it the night before in a field, that it was gone the next morning, taken away by someone else, but that the latter returned it the following night to the field from where the boys took it and hid it in the vacant garage.

The Farmers Union

"Every significant movement, every live organization provokes opposition. The Farmers' Union is no exception. We expect opposition—and we thrive on it!"

"The Farmers' Union is farmer controlled. Our Constitution expressly provides that bankers, business men, and lawyers shall be excluded from membership. All our officials are elected annually from the term of one year. Our Constitution also provides for a referendum vote on any measure by the entire membership, and the recall of any officer at any time."

"Quite different from the constitution of the Michigan Milk Producers Association. We call your attention to the fact that if we employ a lawyer, in any capacity—as counsel, organizer or speaker—he is subject to our control; and that if any of our leaders or officials fail to serve our interests we have full power to oust them."

"No organization is perfect, and no leader is infallible. Our strength depends, not on leaders, but on the intelligence and determination of our rank-and-file members. Suppose you object to this or that leader, suppose you disagree with some of our speakers, suppose you do not believe in exactly everything we advocate—is that any excuse, is that any reason for not joining the Farmers' Union? Of course not. The Farmers' Union is just what we make it. If it is the expression of our class interests as farmers. Join and help make it a better organization! Join and help us oust any officials who prove unfaithful to their trust."

"We challenge any farmer whose source of income in his own labor on the farm, and who really values his interests as a farmer, to give us a single valid reason why he should not support his own class organization, the Farmers' Union."

"The Farmers' Union is not an organization for farmers who have outside interests and who listen to the voice of rumor, the voice of the bankers. The voice of the money class is no organization for pessimists and weak spirits—men who lack the backbone to stand up for their rights. Our enemies will try to keep us divided as long as possible; and for this purpose they find it easier to resort to personalities than to attack our principles. Some farmers will be temporarily discouraged; others will dig in and fight all the harder. We are faced with a separate choice: Hang together or hang separately."

"The men of Money hold the noose around our necks. Our homes, our farms, our very source of livelihood is at stake. To defend ourselves we must build a strong organization, and we want the support of all farmers and farm women who have the courage of their convictions. United we shall succeed."

Harley Gibson, Sec'y Local No. 72, Farmers' Union, Farmington, Mich.

Land Being Sought For Welfare Gardens

H. W. Earle, who is in charge of the welfare work in Farmington Township, wishes to know if anyone in this section would care to donate the use of their land for welfare gardens. Any plot of farm from five to a hundred acres could be used. This land would be planted and cared for by welfare workers.

Mr. Earle asks anyone interested or having acreage available to phone Redford 1303 or Farmington 109FB.

A New Way Out

(By Ellis Parker Butler)

Said Statesman A to Statesman Z: "What can we tax that is not paying?"

We're taxing every blessed thing—Here's what our people are de-fraying:

"Tariff tax, income tax, Tax on retail sales, Club tax, school tax, Tax on beers and ales.

"City tax, county tax, Tax on obligations, War tax, wine tax, Tax on corporations.

"Brewer tax, sewer tax, Tax on motor cars, Bond tax, stock tax, Tax on liquor bars.

"Bridges tax, check tax, Tax on drugs and pills, Gas tax, ticket tax, Tax on gifts in wills.

"Poll tax, dog tax, Tax on money loaned, State tax, road tax, Tax on all things owned.

"Stamp tax, land tax, Tax on wedding ring, High tax, low tax, Tax on everything."

Said Statesman A to Statesman Z: "That is the list, a pretty heavy. No thing or act that is untaxed. There's nothing more on which to levy."

Said Statesman Z to Statesman A: "The deficit each moment waxes; This is no time for us to fall—We will decree a tax on taxes."
